

Cooper Attended CAJE Conference In Israel

Roz Cooper, director of the religious school of Temple Beth El V'Shalom, was in Israel this summer. She, together with 2,000 other North American, European and Israeli educators met in Jerusalem, July 31 to August 5, at the 13th Annual Conference of the Coalition for the Advancement of Jewish Education (CAJE). The Conference program, developed by a committee of Americans and Israelis, was 2½ years in planning. It was designed so that educators could share ideas, methodologies and materials, as well as expose themselves to the historic, political and societal factors that have shaped Israel as a nation and as the Jewish homeland.

Declared an official event of Israel's 40th anniversary celebrations, the Conference was endorsed by Israel's Education Ministry, Teachers' Union and the Kibbutz Movement. It received grants from the Joint Program for Jewish Education, the CRB Foundation and North American Jewish federations.

Roz said, "It was an injection of enthusiasm, a sharing of ideas and an intense emotional experience. The educator needs to recharge, both professionally and personally, at regular intervals. The Conference program, the experience of being in Israel again and the interrelation between educators from different places and different fields was an experience that will long be cherished."

The Adult Institute of Jewish Studies

Piece Together Your Jewishness — And Feel Good About It

The Adult Institute of Jewish Studies is back! The Institute's purpose is to make courses available to all who wish a Jewish education. Total beginners may come to classes and listen and ask whatever they want. Others may come because they have a love of study of Judaism. Still others may come to learn Jewish traditions, Hebrew and Jewish history.

Be part of this program now! Below is a schedule of classes and fees. Babysitting is available at a nominal pre-paid fee. The Adult Institute of Jewish Studies is cosponsored by Temple Beth El V'Shalom, Temple Israel, Lubavitch of North Carolina, The Jewish Community Center, The Charlotte Jewish Federation.

ALL CLASSES WILL BE HELD AT SHALOM PARK

THURSDAY NIGHTS OCTOBER 6 thru DECEMBER 8
