The county of Northampton has been in the connection in Salmon's school.

The Tuscarora Festival in Onslow county will be held Tuesday, Dec 31.

There will be a festival given by the ladies of Pollocksville, at the Academy, Friday, December the 27th.

A new dry kiln is being put up by the Trent lumber mills in place of the one which was burned recently.

Mr. Wallace Rose is having a very neat dwelling house erected on Spring street, near the corner of South Front and Spring.

There were four marriage licenses issued last week by the Register of Deeds—two to white couples and two to colored couples.

The business portion of Franklinton near Raleigh, was burned early Friday morning. The loss is computed at $3,000. Small insurance.

"St. John's Day," December 27, will be celebrated at Swansboro, Onslow county. A grand festival will be given, and an enjoyable occasion is promised.

Spier & Quinerly, of Bell's Ferry made an assignment last week Mr J. E. Spier being the assignee. Short crops was the cause of the proceeding.

In conversation with one of our most successful business men yesterday he informed us that he had always been a liberal patron of printer's ink and that he had no cause to regret it.

The new building at the Fair grounds, in which will be the aquarium is about completed. It will be the principal attraction this year because it is a new feature and entirely different from anything ever shown in the State.

Sheriff Lane has given notice that he has made his last call for taxes. They must be paid right away to prevent collection by distress. It is for your own benefit that these notifications are given and if you fail to settle, no one is in fault except yourself.

A new saw mill is going up on the river front opposite Mr. Jonathan Havens' residence on East Front street. Mr. W. B. Blades and others are having it built. New Berne beats any other town in the State in the number industry.

Commencing Monday, December 23d, the E. C. D. line will resume its tri-weekly schedule. Ships will leave New Berne every Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Returning on Sundays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

The city Gas and Electric Light Co. have purchased the dynamo from the Fair Association and will make arrangements to light the grounds during the Fair. Electric lights will also be placed over the city where they are wanted by individuals.

We had on yesterday a pleasant visit from Mr. George Poindexter, special agent of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. He is a thorough insurance man, and represents the strongest life company in the world. He is a southern man and a true gentleman.

The Fair officials are getting fully interested in having the finest exhibition yet held. They are going to have printed and circulated an edition of five thousand copies of the Weekly JOURNAL with a full page advertisement. Proper and sufficient advertising and low rates of travel are the main objects to attract a large attendance.

Rev. I. L. Chestnutt, of Snow Hill, who has accepted the call from the Disciples' church in this city, preached his first sermon in the church here on Sunday morning. The sermon was a good, able, interesting and edifying. The congregation seemed to be well pleased with Mr. Chestnutt's preaching. He will begin his regular duties here on the first Sunday in January.

We very much hope that the excellent articles now appearing in the JOURNAL (Shall New Berne Progress) will be carefully read. They are based upon the proposed new railroad from Onslow and we feel sure they will be discussed so clearly that no one will fail to fully understand the movement. Another opportunity is offered New Berne to take a step forward. Will she respond?

On our second page will be found a large illustrated advertisement of J. M. Howard, who has for a number years been endeavoring to establish a first class house for gents furnishing goods exclusively. Mr. Howard is attentive to his business and has given much study to satisfying the wants of his patrons. His stock is large and varied and any one dealing with him will find in Mr. Howard a courteous and pleasant gentleman.

N. G. Brinson, Esq., of Pamlico county, writes to the JOURNAL as follows: "A man giving his name as Jacob Karson was committed to Pamlico county jail as a tramp on Dec 1. He is said to have committed some crime in Virginia. Karson is a tall robust man, light complexion, very long hands, broad forehead large eyes, is about 25 or 30 years of age has a very peculiar twist of the head. He gives no satisfactory account of himself. If wanted apply to sheriff of Pamlico county, at Bayboro."

SHALL NEW BERNE PROGRESS

We a month ago began a series of articles under the above caption with the object of awakening our people to the importance of a railroad to New Berne. Our object was to express the opinion that New Berne should be alive to her interests and awake to the fact that the time for action was at hand. We knew that there was a large scope of country to be benefited by the construction of a railroad to New Berne, and that the people of the country would be benefited by the construction of a railroad to New Berne we did not think there was room for doubt. We knew that the people of Onslow county would be benefited by the construction of a railroad to New Berne, and we knew that the people of New Berne would be benefited by the construction of a railroad to Onslow county. We knew that the people of Onslow would be benefited by the construction of a railroad to New Berne, because we had been informed by men who had lived in Onslow county that the people of Onslow had long been in the habit of trading in New Berne, and we had been informed that the people of Onslow had been in the habit of trading in New Berne because they could do better in New Berne than they could at any other place they could visit. We knew
