The Richard James Family Moves Here From Nearby Robbins

Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. James and daughters, Mary Lee, 12 and Cathy Ann, 10, this week moved from Robbins to the house at 275 North May Street which they are leasing from owner Frank Lovejoy.

A native of Robbins, Mr. James has been associated with Kennedy & Company Real Estate & Insurance firm in Pinehurst since 1960.

A 1950 graduate of Catawba College, where he earned an AB degree in commerce, Mr. James was with Amerotron (the old Robbins Mill) from 1950-55. He then became associated with the Shenandoah Life Insurance Company, with home offices in Roanoke, Va. and he remains their representative, working out of the Raleigh district.

The Jameses are Presbyterians, members of Brownson Memorial Church, where he teaches the Young People's Sunday School class. His wife is active in Girl Scouting, both on the troop and management levels.

Their daughters will attend the local school.

Par Seekers Hold Monthly Luncheon Meet After Tourney

Fourteen Par Seekers attended the group's monthly luncheon and business meeting Wednesday at the Southern Pines Country Club.

The low net tournament played by the Par Seekers that morning was won by Mrs. Robert Strouse. Runner-up was Mrs. T .C. Worth, Jr.

Last Wednesday's tourney, a blind hole contest, was won by Mrs. W. Lamont Brown.

CHECK WITH

Dick James

about this question:

"IN THESE DAYS when we are often beset with tensions of many kinds, it seems to me we should concentrate more than ever on the things which help build up our strength as individuals.

"One of the most fundamental of these, to my way of thinking, is life insurance. Here is a form of individual planning by which a man can, insofar as it is humanly possible, exercise control over his own future and that of those he loves.

"Actually, the whole purpose of life insurance is to replace insecurity with security.
