

ion — "The Case for Giving"

Allocations

.....	$ 3,000
.....	5,000
.....	62,000
.....	157,000
.....	10,000
.....	9,000
.....	190,000
.....	10,500
.....	70,983
.....	6,000
.....	585,000
.....	15,600
.....	$ 1,124,583
TOGETHER	220,000
.....	40,337
.....	$ 1,384,920*

Minor Allocations

- JEWISH THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY/AMER.
- JOINT CULTURAL APPEAL
- KASHRUT SUPERVISION
- MECKLENBURG MINISTRIES
- NATIONAL COMMITTEE
- LABOR ISRAEL
- NATIONAL TAY-SACHS/ ALLIED DISEASES
- NEW ISRAEL FUND
- NJCRC
- RECONSTRUCTIONIST RABBINICAL COLLEGE
- RELIGIOUS ACTION CENTER
- RELIGIOUS SPONSORED SHEPARD'S CENTER OF CHARLOTTE, NC
- SOUTHERN JEWISH HISTORICAL SOCIETY
- SYNOGOGUE COUNCIL OF AMERICA
- TIS
- TO LIFE
- TORAH UMESORAH
- YESHIVA UNIVERSITY
- YAH FUND

Allocations Campaign Achievement of

REACHING JEWS WORLDWIDE — Jewish education in Casablanca, Morocco, is an ongoing tradition with the support of UJA/Federation Campaign. Photo/Harry Benson (UJA)

HELPING THE ELDERLY — UJA/Federation Campaign helps provide care for Israel's aging generation of pioneers. Both independent and infirm elderly are part of an active community life at the Byer Home in Jerusalem. Photo/Debbi Cooper (UJA)

HELPING THE HANDICAPPED — Thanks to UJA/Federation Campaign, Dina is being trained as a teacher at the new Gillo Center for the Handicapped near Jerusalem. Project of the American JDC, the Center meets the needs of severely handicapped Israelis 18-35 years old from Jerusalem to Beersheba. Photo/Edward Serotta (UJA)

MAKING THE DIFFERENCE — A young engineer in the Israeli Defense Forces helps an Ethiopian teen test for mechanical aptitude for army service. The teenager is among 200 students from Ethiopia and economically disadvantaged Israeli families at the Hodayot Youth Aliyah Village near Lake Tiberias. Through UJA/Federation Campaign, Youth Aliyah has helped one out of every 15 Jews in Israel grow into successful adulthood. Photo/Edward Serotta (UJA)

How Your Contribution Helps Meet the Challenge

$72 buys summer and winter clothing for an orphaned Ethiopian teenager at a UJA-supported youth village in Israel's Galilee.

$150 helps an elderly Jewish couple in Warsaw buy food, medicine and clothing for one year.

$250 buys cholera vaccine for 100 children in the Gondar region of Ethiopia, where most of the country's Jews live.

$600 provides a year's rent supplement for a single immigrant's housing in Israel.

$1,000 brings Jewish education and holiday programs to families fighting assimilation in their isolated community in Argentina.

$1,500 pays for planting three-quarters of an acre of dates on a moshav in the Negev.

$1,800 provides a troubled Israeli teenager with one year of intensive vocational training and general education at a youth center.

$2,000 enables 14 children to attend a Jewish summer camp in Hungary, the first since World War II.

$3,000 makes possible 12 months of outpatient health care for six poor and elderly Jews in Tunis.

$3,500 provides an aging Israeli pioneer with an apartment and housekeeping help for one year in a residence for the elderly.

$5,000 covers the cost of building half an acre of plastic greenhouse protection for vine-ripened tomatoes grown in Israel's desert strip, the Arava.

$6,000 provides religious items including prayer books, matzoh and menorahs for the entire Jewish community of Czechoslovakia.

$10,000 provides the seven members of a new immigrant family with six months of absorption center housing, Hebrew classes, social activities and religious facilities.

$18,000 covers stipends for one year for 10 kibbutz and moshav members to pursue research in developing new crops for Israel.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF THE '80s — Today in Rosh Ha-ayin, center for Israel's Yemenite population, a young family enjoys the benefits of life in a Project Renewal neighborhood. Through UJA/Federation Campaign, Rosh Ha'ayin is twinned with the Dallas and Birmingham Jewish communities. Photo/UJA

MODERN RURAL DEVELOPMENT — Today's rural development in Israel means hi-tech industry alongside hi-tech agriculture. Tzoron Enterprises at Kibbutz Ma'agen Mikael uses the most advanced Photochemical techniques to manufacture intricate electronic equipment. During the past 50 years, UJA/Federation Campaign has helped build nearly 600 agricultural and industrial settlements within Israel's pre-1967 borders. Photo/UJA

REACHING THE NEXT GENERATION — Today's Israeli youngsters are off to a good start at an early childhood development center in the Project Renewal neighborhood of Kfar Saba. Through United Jewish Appeal's Project Renewal, American Jewish communities are helping make the Israeli dream a reality in neglected neighborhoods throughout the country. In the past 10 years, thanks to the UJA/Federation Campaign, 60 Israeli neighborhoods have been twinned with 270 American Jewish communities.

—UJA Press Service Photo/Edward Serotta

ference for this generation and the next.

