Revival Preacher

DR. SANKEY LEE BLANTON, dean of the Wake Forest College School of Religion, will be visiting minister for the revival series scheduled this month by the First Baptist Church of Waynesville. The series will open April 24 and continue through May 1.

Revival Meet Opens Here On May 24

A series of revival meetings conducted by the First Baptist Church of Waynesville will open April 24 and continue through May 1.

The Rev. L. G. Elliott, pastor, said yesterday that Dr. Sankey L. Blanton, dean of the Wake Forest College School of Religion, will be the visiting minister.

Services will be held at 8 p.m. every weekday and at 11 a.m. on Sundays during the series.

Dr. Blanton was pastor of the First Baptist Church of Wilmington, N. C., when he was named to head the Wake Forest school two years ago.

Special music by the two choirs under the direction of Charles Isley, the church's minister of music and director of the Waynesville High School band, will feature each service.

Mrs. Douglas Moore will be organist.

In making the announcement, Mr. Elliott extended an invitation to the public to attend the revivals.

In reference to the visiting minister, Dr. F. S. Love, superintendent of the Lake Junaluska Methodist Assembly, said:

"I was closely associated with Sankey Lee Blanton during my pastorate at Wilmington, and I consider him to be one of the truly great preachers of the Baptists in the South.

"Under his forceful ministry, you will hear preaching at its best."
