Hoover Leads Men Striving To Reduce Lumber Waste In Our Wood-Using Industries

COL. WILLIAM B GREELEY — RICHARD H AISHTON — A G HOPCRAFT

Making effective the improvements and economies that have been developed in the use of forest products by getting together the organized industrial units which consume these products and encouraging their members to take full advantage of improved practices, is projected as one of the aims of the National Committee on Wood Utilization, recently formed to combat wood waste.

Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, has agreed to serve as chairman of the Committee which realizes that forests in the United States are being cut four times faster than they can be replaced and that unless conservation methods are applied to the lumber after it leaves the mills both industry and the general public will face a serious condition.

W. B. Greeley, chief United States forester is vice chairman of the committee. Mr. Greeley is shown above with Richard H. Aishton of the American Railway Association, and A. G. Hopecraft, president of the National Association of Purchasing Agents, who are also members of the Committee.

The Committee on Wood Utilization is a direct outgrowth of the various conferences on elimination of waste in industry sponsored by the Department of Commerce during the past four years. The Committee is not one primarily of investigation or research, but will foster and direct an active campaign to put into effect actual saving plans. Its personnel is made up of representatives of wood using industries, builders and contractors, the paper and pulp industry, engineers, architects, farm organizations and others.

Take care of the present and you can trade it in on a better future.

BIG CROWD EXPECTED AT LEGION MEET

arrange a military parade in addition to the regular Legion parade. There are two forts at Omaha—Fort Crook and Fort Omaha, in addition to a federal office building containing corps headquarters. Major General Duncan is a member of the local Legion post and a member of the convention committee.

Russell Creviston, National Adjutant of the American Legion was in Omaha a few weeks ago conferring with the local committee on convention plans. "If your reception of the visitors will be just half as good as that accorded us, they will have a grand and glowing time," said Mr. Creviston at the conclusion of his visit.

As a start on a convention entertainment, the Omaha delegation waved a certified check for $50,000 at the St. Paul convention, which was largely instrumental in swinging the convention to Omaha.

Herewith is solution to Puzzle No. 218

A WORD FOR BEGINNERS

The best way to solve a cross word puzzle is to run quickly over the list of horizontal and vertical synonyms and compare them to the spaces in the puzzle extending crosswise or downward from the number of the synonym. Some word which will just fit in the number of spaces available will quickly occur to you in some instances, giving you a foundation from which to solve the more difficult words. The words must interlock perfectly.
