THE DAILY ARGUS.

GOLDSBORO, N. C., JULY 2, 1890

NEWS AND COMMENT.

Numerous Items and Happenings Clipped From Various Sources.

A California paper tells of strawberries so large that "five berries made a square meal."

Mme. Patti is said to have signed a magazine article, which will appear some time next winter.

Silva Porto, who committed suicide in Africa recently, wrapped himself in a Portuguese flag and blew himself up with fourteen barrels of gunpowder.

The largest sheep ranch in the world is in the counties of Webb and Dimnet in Texas. It contains upwards of 400,000 acres, and yearly pastures 800,000 sheep.

Ex-Governor Smyth, of New Hamshire, is having a seventy-five-foot tower, surmounted by an electric light, erected as an observatory in Manchester.

Alexander Dumas has given to the Cluny Museum the sword of the Marquis of Pescara, husband of Victoria Colonna and hero of the battle of Pavia, in 1525.

The Czar, according to a recent statistician's calculation, is the largest private owner of land in the world; the total is about 56,000,000 acres, about the size of the whole of France.

Cardinal Manning, who will celebrate his eighty-second birthday next month, has always been an advocate of out-door sports. To an indulgence in them he attributes his present health.

Fanny Williams of Columbus, Ind., has completed a ten-mile grading contract on the E and R. Railroad, and has taken a contract for twenty-five miles of grading on another road.

The longest speech on record was made in the Legislature of British Columbuia by a representatives named De Cosmos, who to defeat a bill spoke uninterruptedly for twenty-six hours.

The Czar of Russia, Alexander III., has purchased Sierneradzki's celebrated picture, "Phryne in Eleusis," for 55,000 roubles, and it is to be hung in one of the drawing rooms of the Chateau Peterhof.

It has been estimated that for every 1,000 head of cattle in Great Britain sixty-seven tons of beef or veal are annually sent to market, and for every 1,000 head of sheep and lambs twelve and one-half tons of mutton or lamb.

The largest and heaviest building stone ever quarried in England was taken from the Plankington quarry, near Norwich, in February, 1889; it was in one piece, without crack or flaw, and weighed over thirty-five tons; it was 15 feet long, 6 feet high, and 5 feet wide.

The late J. J. McElhone, stenographer of the National House of Representatives, could report equally well with either hand, and in taking a long speech in the House he would frequently shift the pencil from one hand to the other without interrupting his speed.

Professor Drummond's "Natural Law in the Spiritual World" has had an immense success, and now it is announced that 120,000 English copies of his sermon on the Bible, "The Greatest Thing in the World," have been circulated, besides translations into vavious languages.

The Russian War Department it is reported, is considering the advisability of acquiring the sole right to a new shirt of mail, which is said to be extraordinarily light, impervious to bullets or sabre thrusts, and cheap to manufacture. A Russian general is the inventor.

In 1804 there were thirty-five translations of the Scriptures in existence; since the formation of the British and Foreign Bible Society in that year ten millions of money have been expended in the work of circulating the Bible, and there are now nearly 300 translations of the Scriptures.

Experiments made in Sweden by M. Sandberg on the strength of iron rails during winter have shown that steel rails containing over 4 per cent. of carbon are apt to break in cold weather. In fact, the result of his investigations points to the use of rails having less carbon in countries as cold in winter as Norway and Sweden.

A citizen of Idaho, who lives above the junction of the Middle and South Fork of Boise, killed a black bear with a knife a few days since. He had followed the bear for several miles. It laid down beside a rock and he crept up to it and plunged a big knife into a vital part. A neighbor who saw the bear when it was dead relates the story. The bear was very large and would weigh 500 pounds.

The newest cocktail, the invention of a well-known club man, is having a tremendous go. And it is simplicity itself. Put one drop of red tabasco in the bottom of a sherry glass and twirl the glass so as to distribute the potent liquid over as large an area as possible. Then fill the glass with a dry sherry and put one more drop of tabasco into the surface of the wine. Swallow promptly, and the two drops of tabasco, meeting and shaking hands, as it were under the midriff, diffuse a genial glow over the entire system.

There are some Republican papers which take a gloomy view of the prospects of the g. o. p. since the introduction of the silver bill. One of them says: "If the bill becomes a law, the goldbugs will have no further use for its party, and if the bill is strangled, the great West will have no further use for Republican 'protection' to the Eastern barons." As both classes were of vast use to the "fat fryers" in the last Presidential campaign, the loss of either will be severely felt.

Only those who write to us at once can make sure of the chance. All you have to do in return is to show our goods to those who call—your neighbors and those around you. The beginning of this advertisement shows the small end of the telescope. The following cut gives the appearance of it reduced to about the fifteth part of its bulk. It is a grand, double glass telescope, as large as is easy to carry. We will also show you how you can make from $5 to $10 a day at least, from the start, without experience. Better write at once. We pay all express charges.
