SHORT PASSING EVENTS.

See inside pages for additional local news.

Mr. L. G. Daniels has bought of Dr. F. W. Hughes thirty feet of ground lying between the latter's prospective new building and the store of the Gaskill Hardware Co. He will erect a building on it some time in the near future.

Mr. J. Council Brown has been in the city several days making arrangements to locate a rock crushing concern here which will be a branch of one in Greensboro. He is interested in the firm of Porter-Brown Chemical Co., of Greensboro.

Mr. John Jones and Miss Lilly Tripp, of Ft. Barnwell, were married in the clerk's office at the court house yesterday afternoon by Mr. Sam Ball, justice of the peace. The manner of the marriage suggests to timid souls a good way to escape the ordeal of the regulation wedding. After procuring a license all the happy couple have to do is to just stop across the hall where they can be accommodated by the obliging deputy clerk who will perform the ceremony with neatness and dispatch.

The weather yesterday was a good demonstration of how winter loves to linger in the lap of spring. A sharp northeast wind made overcoats a very comfortable article of clothing.

The rummage sale which is to be conducted for the benefit of the circulating library will be held three days next week commencing Thursday, March 16th, in the store under hotel Chattawka, recently occupied by W. B. Smith. Friends of the library should bear this project in mind and contribute to it when solicitors apply.

The condition of the side walk on Middle stree' just below Pollock, is bad very bad, and it shows poor taste of the merchants there to allow it to remain so. It deserves condemnation or anything else that will cause its repair.

Forty-three years ago next Tuesday, New Bern was captured by the Federals under command of General Burnside The greater number who witnessed that occurrence have passed away. Only a few of the old landmarks which escaped the event remain, and while New Bern has not made the same progress as have some younger towns, it is gratifying to reflect that its recovery from the ravages of war has been complete.]

For Saturday it was immensely dull in town yesterday. It seems that the farmers are all busy with their work which was delayed by the severe weather in January and February. Such days however make the merchants glum.

The price of shad was slightly lower yesterday. Best roes could be bought for 70 cents, and others as low as fifty cents. Bucks ranged from 35 to 45 cents the fish. Herrings were also cheaper, eight very nice ones were offered for 20c.

Mr. H. W. Armstrong has opened an office at No. 28 Craven street in which to conduct a brokers and manufacturers agency for the sale of groceries and feed.

J. J. Baxter has made a little departure in millinery opening custom by commencing at night Tuesday continuing from 7:30 untill 10 o'clock and reopening in the morning.

The weather forecast for today is for rain.

Drug Stores open today will be F. S. Duffy down town, Leinster Duffy up town.

So far as known in this city there has not been a shad caught in Neuse river in this territory this season. This is unusually late for this to be so.—Kinston Free Press 11th.

A charter was granted Friday to the New Bern Underwriting Agency Co., to do general insurance business. Among the incorporators is Mr. Sam Abbott, formerly in the insurance business in this city.—Kinston Free Press 11th.

One of the agents of the Atlantic Coast Line and a conductor on the A. & N. C. "shoofly" "jess" nod now in passing. The reason is this: The "shoofly" arrived in Kinston O. T. Thursday evening, on its way to Goldsboro, and a message was received to "hold No. 6, the shoofly, passenger." The A. & N. C. conductor waited one hour, at the expiration of which time one little bench-legged nigger walked up, as "passengers" for Falling Creek, a 15 cent fare. Now there's a coolness.—Kinston Free Press.

MAUD MULLER'S RETURN.

The Popular Play to be Seen Here Again Next Thursday Night.

Maud Muller, the pretty pastoral play which pleased a large audience at the New Masonic Theatre a few weeks ago will play a return date here next Thursday March 9th. The drama, as is well known, is founded on the Poet Whittiers immortal poem and has a wholesome tone to it. There is no sickly sentimentalism to it but the romantic version is of the natural kind that challeges admiration.

The star, Miss Beulah Thompson, is an actress of marked ability and though having played leading roles but a short time, she has gained a wonderful amount of praise from press and public which fact shows that she has begun a successful career as an actress.

Marriage Announcement.
