VIOLENCE IN NORTH MEXICO

Insurrectos to Try to Stop Shipment of 100,000 Cattle to United States.

El Paso, March 21—According to reports received from what are considered unquestionable sources interference with the activity of business peop'e are growing in Northern Mexico to such an extent that thousands of non-combatants, including many Americans, are leaving the country.

Americans are allowed to depart freely, but not without being detained by armed men and, in some instances, deprived of their valuables. Cattle and horses are taken without regard to ownership. It is given out that depredations are not countenanced by the insurrecto army, but are performed by a law less element.

American cattlemen who have come to the border report that 100,000 head of cattle which had been contracted for by the United States from Mexico in April will be prevented by the insurrectos from being brought across.

A report that there had been a fight near Casas Grandes, that Col. Rabago, the federal commander, had been captured by the insurrectos in a canyon called Chocolate Pass, and that the insurrectos had agreed that the Mexico Northwestern Railroad was to be opened th Juarez as soon as Casas Grandes was taken by the insurrectos reached here, but was not confirmed.

The Successful Career.

of a young man or woman depends upon properly investing surplus earnings while possible to so do. Procrastination has caused the loss of millions, while money idly spent in youth creates want in old age.

There's a way out of all this. A few dollars invested monthly in the NEW BERN BUILDING & LOAN ASSOCIATION (est. 1888 and one of the best conducted associations in the country) is the desideratum.

Will you grasp the opportunity that lies before you, or sleep on while others make good? The April Series now on sale by the undersigned, for further particulars, call, address or phone.

Child Killed By Auto.

A little child was killed in Asheville a few days ago by an automobile and though the driver of the machine, in this instance, does not seem to have been particularly to blame, yet this sad affair should carry its warning to autoist everywhere. The speedlaws of this city are not observed, and it is very hard for the police to catch the offenders. But—some day a little lifeless body will cast a gloom over the entire community, and some automobilist will forever carry a picture in his mind that he will not be able to efface.

You will therefore bring your bill (form 1538) and have it receipted when you call to pay your rent. It is not a matter of discretion with me as to closing your box if the rent is not paid, but the government demands that I shall close them.

Catches Large Rock.

A large rock fish weighing more than 12 pounds was caught a few miles down Neuse river yesterday morning by a local fisherman in a very peculiar manner. The fisherman had started down the river to place his nets, and in some way one of them dropped overboard and being heavily weighted began to sink at once. The owner of the net began to pull it back into the boat and found that it had reached the fish. The member of the local club, who double bluestriking in that vicinity when the net fell overboard was it accounted attempted to turn through its [illegible] to escape.

THE RICH ARE PARASITES

Masses Are The Producers Evolution or Revolution at Hand.

New York, March 21—"The days of the idle rich are as a tale that is told. Tomorrow in this land there will be one of two things," says Millionaire Frederick Townsend Martin, in the current Everybody's, "evolution or revolution. Either class I represent will be merged into the body of the nation, or we shall stand face to face with the forces of anarchy, socialism, trade unionism and a hundred other cults that either do represent or claim to represent the spirit of this mighty people. I cannot see how the business world of America can long escape a reckoning that has, for years, been overdue.

"The first result of the growing consciousness on the part of the rich of the unrest throughout the country is a sudden increasing interest in charity and reform. In the last days of Rome the plutocrats stilled frenzied mobs by bringing ship loads of corn from Egypt and distributing it free. Then, while the mob ate the plutocrats sought out the mob leaders and killed them.

"But the rich in America forget when they try this process here that the plebs of America are not slaves, and that their leaders, of whom there are a host, are pretty nearly as well educated are certainly as shrewd and probably as strong legally, as the rich.

"In Rome the masses were a race of parasites. In America, on the contrary, the masses are the producing elements of the nation, and the rich are parasites."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

SHALL THE ACADEMY GROUND BE DISFIGURED.

Mr. Editor:

It seems to me that every citizen of New Bern is interested (or ought to be) in the protection and beautifying of the Academy Green and as one of the interested ones I want to protest against the marring of our beautiful school grounds. I see from the paper that the Trustees of The New Bern Academy have granted permission to the Circulating Library Association to erect their library building on the southeast corner of Hancock and New streets. Can it be that the school playground of a century is to be thus disturbed and disfigured in order that the patrons of the library may be saved a few steps? Can it be seriously proposed to do violence to the present symmetrical and convenient arrangement of the buildings and grounds and place the small library building on the most prominent corner and relegate the present imposing structures to the backyard? Have the Trustees the moral right to do this?

ENQUIRER.

THE BOOKS.

Mr. Editor—It has come to my ears that there will be that "Expert accountant" whom of a few days ago, here today to "look at the books" show "Citizen" and "Taxpayer" have had so much to say about having the books inspected. I guess now they will soon see the results of their efforts and every body will likely feel that their efforts have not been in vain, regardless as to the results of the inspection.

There can be nothing wrong, either real or imaginary, in having the "Everybody's Books" inspected, any more than for an individual to take an inventory of his store and have his books inspected that he may know just his business results.

It is a businesslike proposition and should not be resented by anybody. Honest men are pleased, and those who are the guilty ones know that the city's business have been and are now conducted that we are not afraid to have anything but pure sunshine.

Don't you think it time to get busy and put a coat of P. & L. Paint on your
