NEW BERNE, N. C., DEC. 5, 1883.

GIRLS in the Iowa Agricultural College are taught to cook. By and by our superior civilization will educate a girl in such a manner that she will be fit to become a wife—an art which appears to have been lost sometime in the past generation.

A MEMBER of the Texas Legislature died in great agony after three days suffering from the bite of a fly on the face. The same man might have recovered from the stroke of a thunder bolt. Death comes in an infinite variety of forms—sometimes on the wings of a mote, and sometimes on the wings of a tempest.

A YOUNG Englishman in San Francisco is going to undertake circumnavigating the globe on a bicycle. He will start in the spring and traverse this continent first, then Europe and Asia. It is a big undertaking, and the earth will whirl around a good many times while the young man is whirling around it.

IT may be set down as a fact, not always demonstrable, yet a fact, that there is no created thing without its use. To find out the use of things is the task of great minds. When the task is completed there will be an end of waste. Much has been accomplished of late years in the utilization of what had been deemed worthless material. New processes of converting ores make it possible and profitable to extract new metal from the slag and tailings of previous workings. The coal dust at the mouth of the mines is now used to drive locomotives. The gas that for years has been flowing from petroleum wells is burned for manufacturing and domestic heating purposes, wells being sunk purposely to obtain it. The cotton seed that was formerly thrown away at the South now yields a valuable oil and food for cattle. Sawdust is made into paper, straw into boards, waste water power is turned into electric force. Mills have been recently erected near New Orleans intended to convert bagasse—the refuse of the sugar cane mills—into a fibre suitable for paper stock, or for making boxes, barrels and tubs. Labor-saving machinery, while it cheapens the cost of living, lessens the work which men and women find to do; but these beneficient utilizations of waste force and waste material, while they also cheapen the cost of living, at the same time increase the variety of employments.

PROGRESS.

The young men of Shaw University, colored, discussed on Friday evening, the 16th of November, the following proposition:

Resolved, That the negro should withdraw from the Republican party.

The Banner-Enterprise speaks in very complimentary terms of the speeches and promises to publish them as delivered. School boys in debating questions which embrace living and practical issues sometimes arrive at just and logical conclusions as they did in this instance. The question was decided in the affirmative. This is certainly an indication of progress as such a question would hardly have been admissible ten years ago.

An Instant Remedy for Poisoning.

If a person swallows any poison whatever, or has fallen into convulsion from having overloaded his stomach, an instantaneous remedy is a heaping tea spoonful of common salt and as much ground mustard stirred rapidly in a tea-cup of water, warm or cold, and swallowed instantly. It is scarcely down before it begins to come up, bringing with it the remaining contents of the stomach; and lest there be any remnant of poison, however, let the white of an egg or a teacup of strong coffee be swallowed as soon as the stomach is quiet; because these very common articles nullify a large number of virulent poisons.

Weevil in Corn.

The Florida Dispatch says: "A farmer in Georgia protects his corn from weevils by distributing each wagon load of corn equally over the crib and giving it a small sprinkling of salt equally over the heap; the next load is similarly treated, and about every third layer of corn is also treated to a liberal supply of china berry leaves. The shuck is left on the corn, which, when thus protected, will keep sound for a long period."

Fifty surgeons probed ineffectually for the bullet that entered the hip of George H. Fredericks of Fort Wayne in the battle of Okolona, Miss., twenty-one years ago. The other day he felt a sharp pain just above the right knee joint. He worked the flesh with his finger and out came the ball.

The fact that good health, strong muscles and sound nerves are attainable, should encourage every invalid in an earnest endeavor in the right direction. Remember all disease owes its origin more or less to a lack of iron in the blood. Iron in the blood means health, strength and vigor. Analyze the blood of an invalid and little or no iron will be found. Healthy men's blood is full of iron. The best method of supplying this lack of iron is by using Brown's Iron Bitters, a sure cure for dyspepsia, general debility, weakness and all wasting diseases.

The opening of a large cotton mill and the introduction of the cotton manufacture in Venice was the occasion of a ceremony of inauguration a few days ago, in which the religious, civil, and military authorities, several senators and deputies, and a large number of other persons invited took part. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body.
