SCOREBOARD

By Paul Denny
Athletic Director

The Youth Hoopsters ended a fine season with the All-Star Games and awards ceremony. As the parents and kids munched on snacks and downed some drinks, we handed out a variety of trophies. Each player had the chance to take the stage in J's version of the "ESPY" Awards. "Hustle Awards" went to Jeffrey Goldsmith, Jeff Marshall, Greg Hochstetter and David Krusch. "Most Valuable Players" were Zach Weinstein, Stephanie Katz and Adam Goldfarb. Most Valuable People were Jason Ackerman, Adam Lind, Sara Spangenthal and Adam Dubin. For next season, a parents' committee will be evaluating the program so that our Hoopsters, coaches, refs and parents have even more fun than this year.

The J-Select Basketball Teams finished their seasons with a Black/Gold Intra-Squad Game. In the 7th grade game, Kelly Dion scored 15 and Josh Lawter put in 11. Stuart Shapiro, David Sheffer, Sam Fuerstman and well, ok, the whole team added strong efforts. In the 8th grade game, everyone put up big numbers, but Joe Fuerstman, Axel Lindenbeck, Matt Burstein, Austin Karp put up the biggest. The High School Team finished its season in their tournament. Unfortunately, all their big guns couldn't make it and the team ended a strong season a bit premature. Big thanks to coaches Thad "Coach Barkley" McElveen, Ron "Angelo Dundee" Dion, Howard Glazer and Mike "Yes It's Pure" Gold.

The JCC Youth Soccer Teams finished their pre-season training and were all set for opening day. Monica Hornburg joined our fine list of coaches as she is just getting in on the excitement. More soccer news next time.

Adult Softball was at the tail end of its pre-season training. All the rusty gates should be well oiled by the first game.

The Winter Racquetball League was in the middle of their tournaments. No major upsets yet but things could change . . . soon. The league continues to grow as people see it as a great way to get exercise, to "raz" their old friends, and to make new ones (and the shirts ain't bad either). Look for a tournament in the summer.

The Winter Adult Basketball League crowned its championship team. There were no Scotty Thurmann rainbow threes, no Coach Kroozewoski coaching tactics and no Corliss Williamson "moose" moves (although some of our players do move a bit like a moose.) However, there were 22 points and several rebounds by David Van Glish and timely contributions from Dan Levine and Robert Marx as Purple crushed Green 56-42. Green was led by the all around play of Marshall Meier, the bulk of Derrick Long, the spirited play of Howard Wollner and the entertainment of Steven Ostrow.

The All-Star Game didn't have any Patrick Ewing or Shaq muscle dunks and certainly missed MJ as much as the NBA did. Yet, there were 32 points by Scott Hirsch, 29 by Joel Isac, and even a few "all-star" type moves by the others. A fine game, a fine season, and we will do it all again soon. The final award of the season goes to Robert Gleiberman for the most-courageous-post-game-kiss offer.

Dell Curry Basketball Camp

AGES 8-18
AUGUST 15-18
9 A.M.-4 P.M.

Dell Curry of the Charlotte Hornets is returning again this year to the "J." Dell will share his love and knowledge of the game everyday with your child. His hands-on approach to camp made our 1993 program an overwhelming success.

CAMP LOCATION: In order to avoid over-crowding this year's camp will have two locations. All children ages 8 to 12 will attend camp at the JCC. Children ages 13 and up will attend camp at Providence Day School.

The camp day will include flexibility, instructional stations, league games, 3-on-3, and league games.

CAMP FEES: $175 members; $195 non-members ($75 non-refundable deposit is required when sending in your application. Balance due by August 1, 1994)

CHARLOTTE SPORTS

By Tim Frank

Summer is on its way and that means lots of cool pool activities. For those of you who want to be a part of the fun this summer here is a brief synopsis of what we have in store for you. First of all there is our Aquatics Academy which runs from May 22 - June 5. This is a certification school for people who want to be involved in the working aspect of aquatics. The Academy will consist of certifications in First Aid, Adult CPR, Infant/Child CPR, Lifeguard Training, Water Safety Instruction, Water Exercise Instruction AEA (Aquatic Exercise Association), and Certified Pool Operators. We will also be offering AEA specialty workshops in Strength

Training and Interval Training.

For those of you who are interested in aquatic classes and programs we will be offering parent/infant water adjustment classes, swim lessons for people of all ages, various intensity levels of water exercise classes, and there is also our Summer Swim Team. And for those of you who are interested in unstructured recreation there is open swim times in the Barbara Levine Indoor Pool and the Lerner Family Outdoor Pool. The Outdoor Pool is scheduled to open Memorial Day weekend - May 28, 29 & 30, noon-6 p.m. Now that you know that we offer something for everyone you should make plans to come to the JCC and get wet!
