ADVERTISING LIMITATION.

All church notices, including Sabbath School, meetings for prayer, missionary meetings, weekly and other lectures on church work, inserted free of charge, as heretofore. Also notices of marriages and deaths, not exceeding ten (10) lines each. All other announcements subject to regular advertising rates.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

—Remember the Firemen's Fair in Benbow Hall tonight. The attractions will doubtless be fine.

—Miss Eugene Gray left this morning for Graham to attend the Foster—Williamson marriage at that place.

—A new cotton factory is spoken of for Lincoln county, and a large knitting mill is to begin operations in Charlotte this week, as we learn from the Chronicle.

—It is eggstravagant to eat eggs at 25 cents a dozen, but at present prices the cost does not eggceed that of other things. This is an eggsample of how people play upon words.

—Services at the Baptist church every afternoon at 3:30 p. m. and preaching every night at 7:30 by Rev. Dr. Hutson. All are cordially invited to attend all these services.

—Mr. Forrest W. Whitaker, who read law here at the Dick & Dillard law school and obtained license to practice at the Fall term of 1887, went up to Hendersonville this morning at which place he has located to practice his profession.

A SAD CALAMITY.—News of a sad calamity comes from Lexington. A young man named Gallimore was living with Robert B Jones. Retiring to his room at night in Jones' house, Gallimore carried a lighted lamp which it is supposed he placed on one of the two beds which the room contained, and then fell asleep. The house was burned down and the charred remains of Gallimore were found, Jones' family barely escaping. This happened on Saturday night last.

—When the compositor comes to the editor and asks for a three or four line item to fill out a galley, it can generally be given him from among the various current announcements of fraud, defalcation, forgery, etc. But it is not ornamental to the pages of the Century's history.

—Thanks to Rev J. B. Carpenter for a copy of the Journal of North Carolina Annual Conference of the M. E. church, South, in its Fifty-Second session, held at New Berne, N. C., 1888. This is a well printed pamphlet of 124 pages, and highly creditable to the church and its officers as well as to the publishers.

—Misses Clark, of Danville, Boyd of Reidsville, Atkins, of Boydton, Va., and Messrs. Holcombe and Holland, of Danville, and Jas R. Williams, of Fayetteville, went down to Graham this morning to attend the marriage of Mr. O. H. Foster to Miss Ada V. Williamson, which will take place this evening.

—We are sorry to have to announce the death of Mr. Thos. White of Guilford county, on Monday the 4th day of February. He had been afflicted for some time, and died in peace, as we learn. He was a quiet, unobtrusive man, and his age 71. He was a member of the Methodist Protestant church at Fairfield. Mr. White was the father of Mrs. B. F. Jordan, of High Point. He was buried at High Point on Tuesday the 5th of February.

Monument to Nathaniel Macon.

A resolution passed its final reading in the North Carolina Senate, January 30th, asking Congress to make an appropriation to erect a monument to Hon. Nathaniel Macon. In many respects, it is said, Nathaniel Macon was the greatest man of his time. We have heard it advanced as the opinion of the foremost of his contemporaries. It is known that Mr. Macon was one of the few persons admired and at all times treated deferentially by the eccentric, proud, bitter, scornful John Randolph of Roanoke. The two men were on terms of the closest intimacy, so much so that Mr. Randolph willed to his friend several of his fine horses and a quantity of silver ware, including a costly chandelier of solid silver and elaborate design. This chandelier was brought out by one of the descendants of Mr. Macon and made to do service at a fashionable wedding in Franklin county not a great many years ago, as we learn from a person who was present on the occasion, and, as a matter of course, the relic is still in existence. There must have been something very superior in Mr. Macon to have given him such influence over Mr. Randolph, a man who tolerated very few people, and who seemed to have no real affection for a living soul.

But would it not be well to ask Congress to erect the monument on the Guilford Battle Ground? He was a soldier in the war of the Revolution and returned home reluctantly at the call of his people to become a legislator. Let Congress build the monument on Guilford Battle Ground.

The Shoninger Organ.

Under date of Oct. 15, 1888, L. McNeill of Richmond county writes, voluntarily, viz:

"Eleven months ago, I bought a Shoninger Organ style 51 at $73, of you. "Am well pleased with it." I believe it is fully as good as Organs sold by "traveling agents" and "others" as high as $125. There is a number of Organs in my neighborhood, that have cost from $80 to $125. I believe mine is "as good as the best of them."

And to show that he believed it, he sent me the names of four others wanting Organs and Pianos, and I have sent one other to his place. Three sold last week, and three to come in this week, one handsome one at $50., with 122 Reeds and two (divided) couplers.
