"MRS. MINIVER" IS A HUMAN STORY OF ENGLAND'S COURAGE

A companion piece to "Mr. Chips" was found by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for Greer Garson in "Mrs. Miniver," Jan Struther's touchingly human story of an average English woman in middle classes facing the horrors of warfare on the home front. The picture. teaming Miss Garson and Walter Pidgeon, tells of the quiet heroic courage and abiding faith of a people under air attacks and raids. It will be shown at the Yancey Theatre next Wed. and Thursday.

Rescue at Dunkirk

The story deals with Mrs Miniver and her husband, Clem, living in a quiet village. Their son is at Oxford. He joins the R.A.F., becomes engaged to the village belle. There are air alarms; episodes in air raid shelters.

Clem joins the older men going in ramshackle boats to aid in the rescue at Dun-

BOONE BURLEY MARKET HAS ADVANTAGES

The Boone Tobacco Market was established three years ago. The tobacco farmers and business men of Wautauga county and several adjoining counties organized and built the first warehouse. Later when Mr. R. C. Coleman of Tabor City, began to operate the warehouse already built, knowing that the market needed more floor space, Mr. Coleman got busy and the second warehouse was built. Now Boone has floor space enough for an all day sale, and space for farmers to unload.

It has been the policy of the business men of Boone and Mr. Coleman, who is operator of the Mountain Burley Warehouses, No. 1 and 2. to see that every farmer has the best service it is possible to render him and that he gets top market prices for his tobacco. One great advantage of the Boone Tobacco market is you don't have to wait. You can most surely bring your tobacco to Boone, sell it the same day, get your check, and go home a satisfied customer.

We sold about two million pounds of tobacco last season, and we expect to sell even more than that this season.

Pvt. Roscoe McMahan is in from the army visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. McMahan of Pensacola.

CYANITE PLANT WILL RESUME OPERATIONS

Products Will Go To War Industry

Plans have been completed for the reopening of the kyanite deposit near Burnsville. Defense Plant Corporation, which is a Government War agency has agreed to purchase the old plant of Celo Mines, Inc., and to rehabilitate the plant in such a manner as to increase its capacity to 300 tons of ore a day.

Defense Plant Corporation has leased the plant to Yancey Cyanite Company which will operate the mine and mill. Mr. James McClure of Asheville is president of Yancey Cyanite Co. and Mr. Guy M. Sales is vice-president. Operations at Burnsville will be in charge of V. L. Mattson. Cecil Angel will be accountant for the new operation, and Charles V. Rice will be mine superintendent.

When the plant improvement program is complete, about 75 persons will be employed. Both refractory and glass grade cyanite will be produced. The refractory grade cyanite will all be sold to Metals Reserve Corporation for the duration of the war. All of this product will be used directly in the manufacture of essential war materials. Refractories made from this material will be used in steel and other metallurgical furnaces. Some of it will also be used in the linings of fireboxes on Naval craft.

The glass grade cyanite will also be largely used in furthering the war effort. Cyanite is used as an essential ingredient in special high-aluminous-low alkali glasses that are needed by the chemical and other industries.

A large amount of garnet will be produced as a bf-product. The garnet produced from this deposit is unusually hard and has been successfully used in a wide number of industrial grinding applications.

Research work will be carried on to find uses for other by-products which at present have no value. The development of these by-products will be particularly important in establishing the project as a permanent industry that will survive after the war.

FIRST CARLOAD CLEANSER SHIPPED BY SAFFORD CO

The first car load of cleansing products from Yancey county was shipped Monday. It was manufactured by the Safford company at the plant near Burnsville and was consigned to the U. S. Navy department.

The company was established here in March 1941, and is headed by Col. James O. Safford who is a reserve in the U. S. Field Artillery.

The company manufactures cleanser products and has been designated as a manufacturer of war materials. Over 100,000 pounds have previously gone to the Navy department and several large orders to the Veterans Administration. A number of North Carolina firms are now using the product. and the state of Georgia has made extensive purchases.

The basic material of the cleanser is the finest grade North Carolina feldspar. Thus the manufacture of the products is not hampered or slowed down because of transportation difficulties since the raw material is found here in unlimited quantities.

The main office of the company is locatel in Burnsville and the manufacturing plant at Bowditch. adjacent to the plant of the Feldspar Milling Company. Both the plant building and the machinery for manufacture are adequate to take care of the increased demand which now seems certain to continue.

Will Be Shown at Yancey Theatre Wed.-Thurs.
