

Back to School: Focus on

Charlotte Jewish Preschool

The Charlotte Jewish Preschool, sponsored by Temple Beth El and Temple Israel, meets five days a week at Shalom Park and offers half-day and full day care options for 2-5 year olds, including a Pre-K class. For further information or to arrange a private tour, call Debby Block, Preschool Director at 366-5007, ext. 256.

From Torah Pizza to Schalock Manet at Purim, Judaism is celebrated year-round.

The Charlotte Jewish Preschool is dedicated to teaching young children the fundamentals of Judaism through a process of joyous discovery.

Carolina Agency for Jewish Education (CAJE)

For more information about CAJE programs and membership, call Lenora Stein, Executive Director at 366-5007, ext. 272.

What's inside that unique-looking modular building located near the JCC's front door? It's the home of the CAJE Resource Center — your lending library source for all that's the best on the multi-media Judaic education scene - Jewish videos, cassette tapes, games, music, maps, posters, textbooks, teacher guides and all sorts of "fun" stuff.

Consolidated High School of Jewish Studies

The Consolidated High School of Jewish Studies of Charlotte is the institution for high learning designed for students in grades eight through twelve who are members of Temple Beth El and Temple Israel. Classes are held weekly on Wednesday evenings from 7-9 pm at Shalom Park.

Post confirmation students in grades 11 and 12 meet monthly for dinner and a seminar on a contemporary topic. To register or for more information, contact Sue Brodsky, Director 366-5007, ext. 261.

County Commissioner Lloyd Scher speaks to students on the topic of "Religion and Government". CHS students are encouraged to exchange views on important issues. We offer an enriched academic program and provide an environment in which students are exposed to a variety of ideas, values and practices to help strengthen their Jewish identity.

CHS Student Council members Lauren Monosoff, Jill Freiberg and Melissa Gottheim are the "Oy, Oy, Oy" Girls in a skit put on by the student council for Teacher Appreciation. Throughout the year CHS Student Council members are working hard to spearhead school-wide tzedakah projects, to welcome new Jewish teenagers into the community and to take part in community holiday celebrations.

A "hands-on" approach is stressed in many of our classes. While making fruit salad, Sam Eneman, teacher of "Hands-On-Hebrew", throws a "tapooz" (orange) into the air during a lesson designed to teach students the Hebrew vocabulary for fruit.

"The advancement of le... commandment" -

There are many opportunities for learning in Charlotte. Whether Mitzvah training, day school — or anything in between — find it here.

At the traditional back-to-school take a look at all the Jewish has to offer.

"Talmud Torah K'neged deavor of Jewish education mitzvot.

Speizman Jewish Library

The Speizman Jewish Library wing of the JCC building is now serves all the synagogues at Sh Jewish Library is open for the No card is required. Please stop non-fiction collection, or check hours and more information pl

These third graders are looking at project (Temple Israel Gime

"Tze u'Lomed" - Go and

Play... busi... Jewi... on S

CAJE is the place to create one-of-a-kind learning materials for Jewish homes and classrooms. Here, preschool and Sunday school teachers work together to design games about Israel for their classrooms.

CAJE teacher inservice workshops learning opportunities for both Shalom Jewish schools in the region.