Perquimans BPW Club To Celebrate Fifth Anniversary Starting Sunday

The Perquimans Business and Professional Women's Club will celebrate its fifth anniversary when it observes the 29th Anniversary of National Business Women's Week September 28, through October 4, along with 2700 clubs that make up the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. They have chosen for the theme "The Ramparts We Build," a platform for democracy in peace and war.

President Harry S. Truman sent a message to the National Federation which reads: "I am happy to endorse this fine program sponsored each year by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc. On the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of "National Business Women's Week," your theme, "The Ramparts We Build," is appropriate in many senses at the present time."

The North Carolina Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs was organized in Charlotte about a month before the national organization was created in 1919. It was intended to be, and has become non-partisan, non-sectarian and self governing. In 1930 the national group joined in the formation of an International Federation to promote understanding between the women of the world.

The organizations today are the largest of their kind. Their purposes are to give expression to members as individuals and as members as a group. They study social, economic and political conditions with a view to improving them, and they strive to enrich social contacts of members within and outside the community.

The local club was organized on April 16, 1948, and received its Charter September 23, 1948 with 24 Charter Members. They have worked on Red Cross drives, polio drives, tuberculosis drives and many minor projects. The club was successful in its first year in endorsing the County Health Program and to further plans for pushing the Malarial Control in the county when the DDT spraying was done; instrumental in getting the free chest X-ray in the county, which was made possible by the District Health Department and the Perquimans Christmas Seal Committee, which the BPW Club sponsored. The club has on file a reply from Western Union Headquarters for this area giving favorable report for continued telegraph service and a reply from the Norfolk-Southern Bus Co., concerning a new bus terminal in Hertford to the effect that the matter was now under advisement.

The club continues to sponsor a loan closet for the sick in the community. We have wheel chairs, crutches, hospital beds, linens, and many necessary sick-room items, most of which have been made possible by contributions of other civic clubs and interested persons. The loan closet supplies are available to any citizen of our county who needs them. We feel that this has been a real service in our community.

We also sponsor the Annual Bicycle Safety Campaign; pay our proportonate share of the support of Paola, our Italian War Orphan, which the 8th District sponsors; award a BPW Medal to the outstanding commercial student at the Perquimans County High School; the Allie E. Trueblood Educational Fund has been set up as a memorial to her the only deceased member of the club.

The members of the Perquimans Business and Professional Women's Club have high ideals and a varied outlook on the needs of Hertford and the people throughout the county.

The members make it a habit to study the community as a whole, and to keep in mind those things which are most needed to be done. We see the following needs in our community:

1. Some coordination among organizations—perhaps a President's Club or a Community Council, but a group where community needs could be taken to secure the cooperation of all.

2. A Recreational Center, or Club House. At least one adequate place where clubs might meet and feel they belong; where there might be open house occasionally in the summer months to permit visitors to meet.

3. An adequate library building with "peace and quiet" and a comfortable place to study; where children could go to hear stories and other programs; where clubs or church groups might go to study and plan their programs.

A place where there might be exhibits, book talks, discussion groups, art exhibits, music appreciation groups or even hobby groups. A place where our fine book collection could be displayed attractively.

4. A Girls' Club—we have the teen agers—where is a place to meet and where is the sponsor.

5. A high school band—we have the majorettes—where is the band?

6. Also the city would like to see the streets in Hertford plainly marked and the houses plainly numbered.

Mrs. Alice M. Towe was first president of the club, serving two years; Miss Hulda Wood was the second president, serving the past two years. Current officers are: President, Mrs. Ann A. Howell; vice president, Mrs. Lois A. Stokes; recording secretary, Miss Grace Cofield; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Clara H. Murray; and treasurer, Mrs. Betty T. Warren.

The club will hold its celebration of National Business Women's Week by attending the District meeting when Roanoke Rapids' BPW Club will be hostess. Posters will be displayed in the store windows, carrying out the theme. Final plans will be completed at the first dinner meeting which will be held Thursday night.

HONORED AT PARTY

Miss Amy Van Roach, whose marriage to Ray Harris took place on Sunday, September 31st, was entertained by the members of the Epworth M.Y.F. at a kitchen shower on Thursday afternoon at the Winfall Community Building. The house was decorated with fall flowers. The bride-elect was presented a corsage of red roses.

The bride received many lovely gifts which she opened and acknowledged.

Those present besides the honoree, were: Miss Nancy Bagley, Miss Phyllis Bagley, Miss Sally Wilder, Miss Evelyn Ann Stanton, Miss Phyllis Trueblood, Miss Clayton Stanton, Miss Nonie Lou Lane, Miss Emily White, Miss Celia M. White, Miss Jill Milley, Mesdames J. Van Roach, Marvin White, T. H. White, W. N. Mathews, Monon Trueblood and Vickie Roach.

HONORS BRIDE-ELECT

Prior to the Harris-Roach wedding ceremony, those entertaining for the bride-to-be were: Miss Nonie Lou Lane, who entertained at her home in Winfall, on Thursday night September 11, at a linen shower; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Simpson honored the bridal couple at a dinner on Wednesday, September 17, at 7:30 o'clock, at their home in Hertford. The hostess presented the bride-to-be a gift of silver in her chosen pattern; Thursday night, September 18, at the Community House in Winfall, Mrs. Tom White and Mrs. Marvin White, with M.Y.F. groups, entertained at a kitchen shower.

Let us to Providence trust, and abide and work in our stations.
