I am seven. I came to Israel when I was just three. That's me in the picture. We came with Solomon's Operation. A lot of people came with me. Last year, I couldn't do school well. They spoke funny and I was lonely. But now I go to a special Jewish Agency school, because I'm special. They help me a lot. My teachers say I am remarkable.

Jewish Women Approaching the 21st Century: Expanding our Horizons

North Carolina State Senator Leslie Winner will be the guest speaker at the Jewish Women's Business and Professionals luncheon Wednesday, November 15 at Providence Cafe. The lunch program will run from 11:30 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. Leslie is in the middle of her second term in the North Carolina State Senate. She has been noted as one of the most effective state senators. Her legislative leadership has led to improvements in the lives of our children and their education. The current state senate Chairman of the North Carolina Mental Health Study Commission, she will speak about being Jewish and Female in Politics. She will discuss why it is vital that we, as American Jewish women, must be informed of the important issues at all levels of government and how we can become more politically aware and involved.

The Women's Business and Professionals group is sponsored by the Women's Division of the Jewish Federation of Greater Charlotte. Judy August and Gale Osborne are co-chairing this most active committee. Programs are open to all Jewish women in, entering or returning to the work place. Women interested in meeting new friends and expanding their network and contacts, as well as supporting each other, are welcome to attend. This year's special feature is the "IN SEARCH OF..." B & P's networking informational bulletin board.

For information and reservations to the November 15 program, contact Ellen Block at 554-8553 or Vicki Hopkins at the Jewish Federation office, 366-5007.

Federation UJA Shabbat

Please join us on December 8 and 9 for Federation/UJA Shabbat with guest speaker Robert Evans. Evans has worked as a professional journalist, a TV news correspondent, an attorney who is a member of both the federal and state bar associations, a video and film producer and a published writer and professional speaker.

He was in the Soviet Union at the time of the Gorbachev coup in August of 1991. He was also in the Middle East for the start of the Persian Gulf war. In his other travels to the Middle East, he met the late Anwar Sadat of Egypt. He also met King Hussein of Jordan as well as PLO leaders at their former headquarters in Beirut. A frequent traveler to Israel, Evans has been privileged to meet with Cabinet ministers and every Israeli prime minister for the past two decades.

Temple Beth El will host Shabbat services Friday, December 8th and Temple Israel will host Shabbat services the following Saturday morning. Chairs for the event are Judy Kaufman from Temple Beth El and Shel Goldstein from Temple Israel.
