Wake Forest College Opens Three Schools

WINSTON-SALEM — Wake Forest College's board of trustees voted last Friday to allow the schools of medicine, law and the division of graduate studies to "admit qualified applicants without regard to race."

The trustees deferred action on a request of the faculty members of the school of liberal arts and business administration to modify the college's custom of excluding Negroes.

The request was made specifically so that the school's admissions committee could rule on the application of Edward Reynolds, 19, of Ghana, West Africa.

The trustees turned down a request from the Student Legislature to permit supervised on-campus dancing. The board ruled it could not allow dancing at the Baptist School in view of the Baptist State Convention of 1957, which reaffirmed its stand against dancing.

Wake Forest students voted overwhelmingly recently to allow dancing.

The trustees at their regularly-scheduled meeting also approved a $7,891,020 budget for the next academic year. This included money for all units of Wake Forest College, including the Bowman Gray School of Medicine.

11th Annual PTA Leadership School Conducted At A&T

GREENSBORO—An audience at A&T College was told last week that many of the problems which face us today could be solved with good human relations.

The speaker was Dr. Gordon W. Lovejoy, Greensboro, acting director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Carolina Region. He was delivering the keynote address at the 11th annual PTA Leadership School held at the College on Saturday, April 22.

"The problems", he said," of adjusting to technological change, adjusting to a changing society and an understanding of the problems of our youth, can only be solved through good human relations."

He said that those who hold posts of leadership have tremendous responsibilities in training young people for our changing society.

Dr. Lovejoy was introduced by Dr. Gladys Royal, professor of chemistry at the College.

President Kennedy Urged To Free Carl Braden Soon

ATLANTA, Ga. — Seventeen white and Negro Southern leaders have initiated a petition to President John F. Kennedy asking him to free Carl Braden, Southern integration worker.

Braden and Frank Wilkinson surrendered to the U. S. Marshal here May 1 to begin serving one-year prison sentences for contempt of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Braden, whose home is in Louisville, Ky., is a feild secretary and editor of the Southern Conference Educational Fund, a Southwide interracial organization working for integration. Wilkinson, of Los Angeles, is field secretary of the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activtiies Committee.

Both men were questioned by the House Committee concerning their beliefs and associations, and Braden was asked about his activities in the integration movement. They refused to answer questions, taking the position that such investigations violate the rights of free speech, association and assembly guaranteed by the First Amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

The petition to President Kennedy asking clemency for Braden is now being circulated for signatures among prominent citizens in the civil rights movement throughout the country.
