Viva Klezmer

Viva Klezmer! was created by clarinetist, Gene Kavadlo, in 1984, and has concertized extensively in the Southeast since that time. In addition to Gene, members of the ensemble are violinist Ali Kavadlo, guitarist Mike Mosley, and bassist Ron Brendle, all Charlotte Symphony musicians and prominent jazz artists in our region. The ensemble has between 40-50 its own arrangements of standard Klezmer tunes, as well as other "Klezmerized" versions of music ranging from Gershwin to Mahler. Florida composer Howard Buss was commissioned to write Traditions, a concert piece in Klezmer style, composed for Viva Klezmer! Viva Klezmer! has appeared in concert on several occasions with the Charlotte Symphony, as well as numerous appearances at the Spoleto Festival in Charleston, SC.

This exciting ensemble is especially proud of its work with young people. For the past 12 years, Viva Klezmer! has presented a series of educational Klezmer concerts in the Charlotte public schools, perhaps the only school system in the country to bring Klezmer music to its students on a regular basis. The program teaches lessons in tolerance and an appreciation for cultural diversity, and has met with critical success from both educators and students. Additionally, Viva Klezmer! has made four recordings, and was recently invited to perform a concert for ClarinetFest 2000, an international symposium held at the University of Oklahoma, and sponsored by the International Clarinet Association. WDAV awarded the the ensemble its First Annual Spencer Artist Award for its "dedicated work to enhance the community of the arts" in Charlotte. ✪
