

A Nobel Prize winner for ozone depletion research...

...is leading a high school science project in North Carolina right now.

That's our goal at the American Hebrew Academy.

We transform the way students learn by inspiring their intellectual, leadership, and personal skills. A pluralistic Jewish environment nurtures the soul while stimulating classes enhance the mind. A technologically advanced campus with small classes and a riveting curriculum means that students are engaged in learning at the highest level. At the American Hebrew Academy we are creating the future Jewish leaders of our world.
