Hadera Author, Miri Lesham-Pelly Brings Her Book, "Lon Lon's Big Night" to Charlotte

On Sunday morning, November 18, Lerner Hall will be home to Lon-Lon, a little sand fox that was born in the Negev, the desert of Israel. One night Lon-Lon stepped outside for the first time. He began to play, and then suddenly found himself alone in the middle of the desert, far from his home and family. Lon-Lon becomes a little wiser to the ways of the outside world through contact with the other animals. He learns the "outside world" is not such a friendly place, when a menacing owl swoops down to catch and perhaps devour him as he narrowly escapes into a gap in a rock. He meets a friendly and helpful hyrax who compliments him for his escape technique and helps him locate his burrow by the acacia tree and reunite with his worried mother, his loving father, and his brother and sister who want to know all about his adventures. The book is written in both English and Hebrew and is available for purchase at www.milkandhoneypress.com.

Children ages 5-8 and their parents are invited to hear Author, Miri Lesham-Pelly, tell of Lon-Lon's tale from 9:15-10 AM or 11:15 AM-12 noon on Sunday, November 18 in Lerner Hall. Miri Lesham-Pelly is from Hadera, Charlotte's Partnership community in Israel. For more information, please contact Tair Zach, Community Shlichah, at 704-944-6784 or tair.zach@jewishcharlotte.org.
