Temple Beth El Schloss Summer Lecture

(Continued from front page)

freedom and equality... We must rededicate ourselves to end prejunot allow the relationship between Jews and African Americans to suffer. This is a bond that must be strengthened. Together, we can dice and combat hatred in all of its forms. Together, we can renew our commitment to justice.

"Together, we can join our

Dr. Ron Carter

voices, and in doing so make even the mightiest of walls fall down."

Beth El's Schloss Summer Lecture will explore the past, present and future of our Jewish/ African American Relations in the South and in Charlotte. How have the African American and Jewish communities walked together and how have we failed one another? From Abraham Joshua Heschel to Harry Golden to Dr. Martin Luther King, what were the voices of passion that helped us dream high?

What voices do we need to hear today in our own city and where do we need to go? Dr. David Goldfield and Harvey Gantt will share reflections on African-American/Jewish relations in the past and present and Dr. Ron Carter and Rabbi Schindler will share a vision for where these relationships could go in the future. Moira Quinn Klein, First Vice President of Temple Beth El and Senior Vice President of Communications and Chief Operating Officer for Charlotte Center City Partners, will moderate the discussion.

Dr. Ronald L. Carter became the 13th president of Johnson C. Smith University last summer. Upon graduating magna cum laude, Phi Beta Kappa, with a Bachelor of Arts degree in sociology and philosophy from Morehouse College in 1971, Dr. Carter began his distinguished career at Boston University's Martin Luther King Jr. Center, where he rose to become the school's youngest dean of students. While at Boston University, he earned a Master of Theology degree and a Ph.D. in philosophy of religion. Dr. Carter also held the position of Dean of Students at University of the Witwatersrand in Johannesburg, and as Provost and Dean of faculty at Coker College in Hartsville, South Carolina.

Dr. David Goldfield

Harvey Gantt is a well-known and respected Charlotte architect and public servant. In 1963, he was the first African American to be admitted to Clemson University, the last state to hold out to racial integration. From 1974 to 1983, Gantt served on the Charlotte City Council. He was then elected and re-elected as the first and to date only black mayor of Charlotte serving in that position from 1983 to 1987. Mr. Gantt remains active in politics, having served on the North Carolina Democratic Party Executive Council, the Democratic National Committee and the National Capital Planning Commission.

Dr. David Goldfield is Robert Lee Bailey Professor of History at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte. Dr. Goldfield received his Ph.D. in History from the University of Maryland in 1970. He is an expert on the American South, including race relations, economic development, religion, and political culture. He is author of "America's Changing Perceptions of Race, 1946-1996,' in Cristina Giorcelli and Rob Kroes, eds., Living With America, 1946-1996 (VU University Press, Amsterdam, 1997), Race, Region, and Cities: Interpreting the Urban South (1997), Black, White, and Southern: Race Relations and Southern Culture (1990), Urban America: A History (sec. ed. 1990) and of the award-winning study, Still Fighting the Civil War: the American South and Southern History.

This annual summer lecture was established four years ago by Marc and Mattye Silverman in memory of Marc's uncle, Simeon Archibald "Happy" Schloss, Jr. Happy was one of the original founders of Temple Beth El and was a treasurer. He was passionate about Judaism, about Temple life and as his name tells you, he was always Happy. The cost for dinner is $10/person. To RSVP call the Temple RSVP line at 704-749-3070 and mention the "Schloss Lecture" or RSVP online at www.beth-el.com/rsvp. Online RSVPs require a one-time SIGN IN on the website to set up a username and password. Reservations can be made online by credit card or by personal check which you may mail in or bring to the event.

For more information please contact Debora Gluick at 704-749-3043 or email dgluick@beth-

Not your mother's Tupperware party.

Join us for the kind of social networking that pays Big $$$. Host a gold-buying party!

The gold standard for home-buying parties used to be Tupperware and Mary Kay. Now the standard is gold itself.

With gold prices fluctuating around $900 per ounce, now is a great time to fight the uncertainties of the economy. Why not let your unwanted, unused and outdated gold, silver and platinum jewelry work for you?

Earn commission money by hosting a goldbuying party and have a fun filled evening with friends, who will be paid – immediately! – the highest prices for their jewelry. Plus, no expenses will be incurred by the party host.* So freshen your face with Mary Kay, pull your old gold out of the Tupperware container ...and let's throw a party! After 99 years in the business, we're the jewelry mavens.

Directions

Exit South Park Mall turning right on Fairview Rd. Travel approx. 1/8 mile and turn left on Park South Drive (by AT&T/Panera Bread). Make second left into large office building lot. Enter lower lobby; opposite Fairview Plaza Restaurant.

Call today to schedule your party.

*Additional consideration given to non-profit and charitable organizations.

5950 Fairview Road, Suite 12 www.southparkjewelers.com Open Tues.-Fri., or by appointment