

Levine-Sklut Judaic Library and Resource Center

Evening to Honor Sam Bernstein a Huge Success

On Saturday, October 24 the Levine-Sklut Judaic Library and Resource Center featured a concert by UNC Jewish A Cappella Group Sababa in honor of Sam Bernstein. Sababa entertained the audience with a variety of music from Israeli to Shabbat Prayers and their enthusiasm was felt by all.

The Levine-Sklut Judaic Library and Resource Center has been so fortunate to have had the wisdom and guidance of Sam during these formative years at the Library, and the entire Jewish community of Charlotte has benefited from his leadership as well.

The concert was followed by a special dessert reception in the library, where one hundred and fifty people enjoyed delicious homemade treats.

We are truly grateful to all who have donated to the Levine-Sklut Judaic Library in honor of Sam. Your support is vital and allows the Library to fulfill its mission: to enhance quality, increase access, and encourage participation in lifelong Jewish education and learning throughout the greater Charlotte community.

Thank you!
