- Jennifer Golynsky is a dedicated

ed volunteer for JFS. She says, "I have been visiting a home bound member of our community for nearly a year now. At first I was nervous about how the visits would go, how we would fill the time. Now we are good friends, sharing stories about our families and friends. We talk about the Temple, community events, movies, books and other common interests. I look forward to seeing my friend every week."

Yetta is an elderly, blind resident of a facility who loves her JFS friendly visitor. David volunteers his time to read a chapter from a meaty mystery aloud to her every week. They get along well and she likes his sense of humor. She hopes he will continue to read to her forever.

Natalie Tunney is in charge of the Volunteer Coordination and Senior Outreach at JFS. She says, "It is an honor to work with our
