

Local AIPAC Program Features Former Israeli Negotiator

Tal Becker (center), a fellow at the Shalom Hartman Center and an associate at the Washington Institute for Near East Policy, spoke in Charlotte at an AIPAC sponsored program. Becker, who has participated at the negotiating table between Israel and the Palestinian Authority, gave the community some insight on the difficulties surrounding the peace process. Here he is seen surrounded by Jeff Epstein (left) and Dr. Zach Gerger, AIPAC members and activists from Charlotte.

Hadassah Mah Jongg Marathon Time

Mah Jongg players, it's that time again. Charlotte Hadassah and the LJCC are proud to offer our 6th Mah Jongg Marathon on Sunday, January 16, at Gorelick Hall, Levine Jewish Community Center, Shalom Park, 5007 Providence Road. This wonderful afternoon of fun begins at 12 and ends around 4:30, and is open to the community.

This year, we will have three different groups: experienced (timed rounds), novice (untimed rounds), and learners, for people who have just begun to play and want to participate in a group tournament. Judy Kaufmann will be our coach for this group.

The top winners will receive cash prizes. The cost is $20 for Hadassah members, and $25 for non-members, and snacks will be provided.

Your check (sent with the coupon below) is your reservation. Please send it to: Robin Fine, 11908 Bridgeview Ln. Charlotte, NC 28277.

Since mah jongg is number specific, we cannot accommodate walk-ins.

Any questions, please call Sandy Hoagland, 704-543-6338. ✪
