

Levine-Sklut Judaic Library and Resource Center

What Does the Judaic Library Do for You?

It's not often you find a place that puts you first. Most days you come across people or organizations that are in it only for themselves. But the Levine-Sklut Judaic Library and Resource Center is different. The JLRC, our local treasure chest of Jewish knowledge, history, and culture, has a myriad of programs and resources available to anyone who enters their doors.

The Judaic Library Gives You the Answers You Need

Books and Reference Materials: more than 16,000 items: books, DVDs, CDs, posters, games, and curriculum aids.

Adult Education: The Florence Melton Adult Mini-School has been successfully launched.

Holocaust Education: Anne Frank exhibit; fiction and non-fiction; feature films and documentaries.

Mini-CAJE: Conference for local Jewish teachers' professional development.

Parenting library: Jewish Family Services' parenting resources for both Jewish and secular issues.

The Judaic Library Makes Your Community a Better Place

Preserving History: The Charlotte Jewish Historical Archives collects and preserves the history of our area.

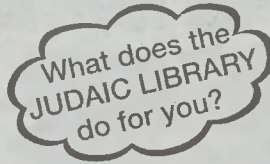

Promoting Understanding: The Bridge to Tolerance initiative provides books and resources on diversity, anti-bullying, and anti-Semitism.

Judaic "Mobile" Library: books are brought to area assisted living facilities; books are being permanently loaned to the Lake Norman and North Charlotte area; a regular delivery of books is made to the schools on the Shalom Park campus.

Children's Programming: Rhythm, Rhyme, and Story Time; Mensch 'n' More; Mother-Daughter Book Club.

The Judaic Library Helps You Broaden Your Horizons

Extensive DVD collection; co-sponsor in a documentary film series; Jewish author speaking engagements; learning Hebrew
