Sometimes the best way to care for your parents is knowing when to ask for help.

When the care of an older relative has reached the point of being too complex to manage, a geriatric care management program provides you with peace-of-mind.

Introducing Jewish Family Services Family Connections

This new care management program is designed to ensure that proper support services are in place to keep your older adult relative as independent as possible. Beginning with a comprehensive in-home evaluation, the JFS Care Management team will develop a personalized plan of care, including recommendations for services and available resources, as well as be available for ongoing care management.

When it's time to look outside the family for help, choose a partner you can trust.

Family connections is the only geriatric care management program in the Charlotte Jewish community. It is funded in part with a grant from BJH Foundation for Senior Services and the Jerome Madans Fund and the Stanley Greenspon Charitable Fund.
