Our Jewish Community's Newest Legacy Donors

The following individuals/families have recently informed our community, through Foundation for the Charlotte Jewish Community (FCJC) or one of the ten Create Your Jewish Legacy community partners. that they have created a legacy gift to support the future of Charlotte's Jewish community. These individuals have established 31 new legacy gifts. Some are creating legacy gifts for the first time while others have added new organizations to their previously created legacy plans. There are now 163 individuals/families throughout our Jewish community who have included a local Jewish organization in their legacy plans creating 298 unique legacies. We thank our newest legacy donors and welcome them into our community's Book of Life Society. $

Anonymous (2)

Alan and Madeline

Aron

Lee and Jeffrey Bierer

Marian and Walter

Brawer

Andrea and George

Cronson

Gene and Deedee Daumit

Dorlisa and Peter Flur Ted and M.E. Hessberg

Eric Lerner

Barbara and Jerry Levin

Janie and Gene Meyers

Dale and Larry Polsky

Ilya and Chantal Rubin

Howard and Andrea

Seidler

Lori Levine and Eric

Sklut

Philip and Lauren

Stark

Irving and Sylvia

Swartz

Susan and Robert

Weiss

L'xperience • Rnowledge • Pervice

704.849.6654 Office

704.904.7250 Mobile

tti.ordan@atcmail.com

Selling

Fresh Fish

Serving Lunch from 11-2

Featuring Sandwiches, Soups, Salads

Fresh Fish Available

Scottish Salmon, Yellowfin

Tuna, Alaskan Halibut,

NC Flounder, Grouper,

Red Snapper Gulf Oysters, Wild New Bedford

Scallops, Wild Gulf Shrimp, Blue Crabs and more.

Check the website for daily updates of our lunch menu and fresh fish available

S 1 OOD MA

"If you complain that Charlotte doesn't have a fish market, this is your answer.

Kathleen Purvis, Observer food editor

www.deepseamarket.com 10020 Monroe Rd., Matthews, NC 28105 at the intersection of Galleria Blvd. 704-849-0029 info@deepseamarket.com

Legacy Spotlight Susan and Donald Jacobs

Susan and Donald Jacobs are among the 163 individuals and families in our community who have created legacy gifts to sup-port its future. Please take the time to read their story and thank them for their generosity. It is our hope that you will be inspired and encouraged to think about how you can create your own Jewish legacy By Susan Jacobs

While I was growing up, the happenings in the Charlotte Jewish community were always one of the main topics of table conversation at family gatherings. Long discussions about the temples or the Amity Club kept all the adults captivated. They talked about B'nai Brith, Men and Women, Hadassah, Federation, Sisterhood and the Men's Club, the Temple Israel rummage store, the kosher butcher, and every other aspect of Jewish life in Charlotte. I do not ever remember a time when the center of my world was anything other than what was happening on a daily basis in all of these organizations. This might sound like it would be dull and a burden, but nothing could be further from the truth.

I was so proud of my grandparents and parents involvement in our community. I loved to tell people that I was Blanche and Ben Jaffa's granddaughter or Ben and Florence Jaffa's daughter. They were dedicated to so many Jewish organizations and determined to make a difference by volunteering their time and leadership skills. They also pledged their resources to insure that their children and grandchildren would have the benefit of all of these agencies in the future.

Their efforts have paid off. The Charlotte Jewish community is thriving and remains stronger than ever. My parents, grandparents, and their generation helped to create a vibrant community and now my generation and future generations must join them to preserve and build upon it.

My life was blessed when I married Donald, a native of Detroit, who immediately embraced all things Jewish in Charlotte and welcomed the opportunity to volunteer his own leadership skills and enthusiasm to many organizations in our community. Together, we have pledged our own time and resources to make sure that our children and grandchildren will continue to live in a thriving Charlotte Jewish community. For us, this means establishing endowment funds to supplement our annual giving. This will enable our gifts to work in the Jewish community in perpetuity when we are no longer here.

Our children will tell you that the family table talk at Shabbat, holidays, or family gatherings has not changed much over time. It is our hope that they will take pride in their Jewish community and tell future generations of their family the importance of preserving and maintaining it for generations to come. $

When a man appears before the Throne of Judgment, the first question he will be asked is not "Have you believed in God?" or "Have you prayed and observed the ritual?' - but "Have you dealt honorably with your fellow man?"

Jalmud: Shabbat 3 1a