

End of Year Gratitude

By Dedee Goldsmith, director,
Jewish Preschool on Sardis

Summer is just beginning and school is officially out at the Jewish Preschool on Sardis. Already, I'm feeling nostalgic for the moments that made up that last school year. More learning, more playing, more friendships and more caring. Our school is so fortunate to have amazing, caring, supportive families. I would like to take a moment to thank our incredible village, for without your help, we could not do what we do. Thank you to the JPS 2014-2015 Advisory Board Members. Without your support and guidance, we would not be where we are today. Samantha Cole, JPS Board President

Youth Visions

Hebrew High Students Salute Their Teachers

It is hard to believe that another great year of fun and learning is over at Hebrew High. According to CHS tradition, the Hebrew High Student Council, prepares a teacher appreciation presentation at the end of every school year. This year, the teens created a graduation ceremony for their teachers, complete with diplomas and superlatives for each. The following is their list:

Cantor Bernard - Most likely to sing in a rainy environment.
Andrew Bernstein - Most likely to be traffic cop (our carpool guru).
Roz Cooper - Most knowledgeable high school student.
Jodi Cohen - Best Jewish mama!
Donna DeGroot - Most likely to live on two continents.
Ariel DiDonato - Most likely to be in two places at the same time.
Rabbi Ezring - Best high school philosopher.
Rabbi Jonathan - Fastest rabbi in Charlotte.
Marcy Goldberg - Most likely to make something out of nothing.
Nancy Good - Most likely to "rock out" in class.
Reuven Green - Most likely to be the cowboy with the biggest heart.
Rochel Groner - Best dressed in a long skirt.
Jake Kalik - The tallest post-graduate student.

Amy Montoni - Most likely to defend Israel in all situations.

Lisa Nagel - Most likely to be a professional chef.

Rabbi Noam - Most likely to act like a teen.

Adi Rodavsky - Best dressed for all occasions.

Rabbi Judy - Most likely to give the best sermons in heels.

Howard Seidler - Most likely to become a comedian.

Rob Sisson - Most likely to become a famous Jewish athlete.

Beth Warshauer - Most likely to have one of her own kids in her class.

The mutual love and respect for student and teacher is evident in the above list and in the weekly interaction at Hebrew High. Don't let your teen miss out on the special opportunities that Hebrew

High has to offer. It is the place for Jewish teens to be on Wednesday nights. For more information, or to enroll your 8th through 12th grader call Roz at 704-944-6782 or email rcooper@shalomcharlotte.org. ☆
