Kids Can Make a Difference

By Debby Block, director, Levine-Sklut Judaic Library and Resource Center

Recently, a parent came into the library and said that her children had collected their tzedakah money over several months and would like to donate their tzedakah to the Library. As the Director of the library, I was very touched by the thoughtful gesture - and even more touched that these children thought of donating to the Library — but honestly, I was expecting the children to bring in a handful of coins. A few weeks later I received a plastic bag with the tzedakah money from Natan, Alex, Ben, and Naomi Bixen. When I opened it, I found $60! To say that I was astonished is an understatement.

A big thank you to the Bixen

The Bixen kids.

children. Your generous donation will provide the Library with at least five new children's books for the library. We hope other children that enjoy the Library will be inspired by the Bixens and understand that even kids can make a difference. ☆

Social-Media Challenged: Join our Class

Twitter, Instagram, and Facebook, oh my! There is a wide variety of ways to communicate through social media and, for many of us, the options and the technology seem confusing, scary or just off-putting. But social media is here to stay and even our presidential candidates are turning to social media more and more. So now is the time to hop on board and learn how you too can get comfortable with social media.

With the guidance of skilled expert, Tamar Raucher, we will explore the types of social media and how to safely join and participate in several forms of social media.
