

Moishe House February Events for Young Adults

Moishe House is a nonprofit organization dedicated to promoting community among Jewish young adults in their twenties and early thirties. Moishe House looks to fill the void that often exists after graduating college and prior to settling down. The organization brings together groups of three to five Jewish adults who live together and plan local programs, both home-based and external, for other young Jewish adults. There are currently 76 Moishe Houses in 18 countries around the world.

Moishe House Charlotte began in August 2013 and since then has hosted 130+ events ranging from service projects to social events to Jewish learning and more. We are always happy to see new and returning faces, so be sure to join us. We are pleased to share with you our exciting events for this February:

4. Ask Big Questions Interfaith Discussion - Tuesday, February 16 at 7 PM at Moishe House Charlotte

Ask Big Questions believes that we can change the world through more meaningful conversations. Each month they release a new "big question" that ignites conversation to better understand each other. Past month's questions have included "how do we disagree" and "what will your legacy be." Come to Moishe House and we will be discussing February's Big Question over snacks and drinks. Please feel free to invite friends of different faith backgrounds.

An undeniably outstanding chef and businesswoman, Ina is so much more. She's a community leader, a pioneer, a television personality, but most importantly, she's the rare sort of person who's found a way to transform her passion into a joy that extends to an entire city, and beyond.

Breakfast at Ina's gives audiences a glimpse into her extraordinary life, all while chronicling the final days of the restaurant as Ina and her staff serve up their final meals.

Ina Pinkney and director Mercedes Kane are scheduled to appear and invite the audience to join them for noshes made from Ina's own recipes after the film.
