Hebrew Highlights

The Hebrew High Student Council for 5777 is made up of 14 amazing students in grades 8 through 12. These student leaders are our school's ambassadors to the community, leading the student body with enthusiasm, pride, and dedication.

Student council members are seen everywhere at Shalom Park. They lead the way in school ruach (spirit) and volunteer their time to help at many community events. Look for them at the Purim Carnival, the Yom Ha'atzmaut celebration and at other mitzvah projects throughout the year.

Within our own program, the student council develops and implements our Hanukkah, Purim, and end of year celebrations. This year, they are also hoping to initiate some social programming for the student body.

All of this would not be possible without the support and leadership of the group's advisor, Rob Sisson. Rob, a popular teacher at our school, makes sure that the students stay focused and get the job done.

It is a pleasure to introduce the newly elected officers of the Hebrew High Student Council for 2016-2017:

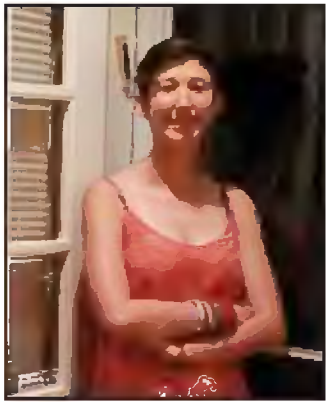

President – Rachel Musa

Vice President – Cara Dillhyon

Treasurer – Dana Sheinhaus

Secretary – Peri Siskind

It's not too late to enroll your

New President of J Street U is Brooke Davies

Brooke Davies, a senior at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and a graduate of Hebrew High, was elected President of the J Street U National Student Board. In her work with J Street U, Brooke founded the current Duke University chapter, served as National Communications Chair, National Education Co-Chair and the UNC Chapter Chair. Brooke grew up in Charlotte's Jewish community, is actively involved in her Hillel at UNC Chapel Hill and is a proud alum of the Ramah Darom summer camp. ☆
