

KINDERGARTEN CLASS IN MOTHER GOOSE PLAY

Mother Goose Entertainment

Given by the Kindergarten of the Badin Public School, May 15, 1919

1. Mother Goose—Hazel Fuller.
2. Old Mother Hubbard—Nellie Webster.
3. Mother Hubbard's Dog—"Spot" Withrow.
4. Jack Sprat and his wife—Robert E. Lee, Mildred Basinger.
5. Jack and Jill—Louis Machman, Rether Dillard.
6. Little Miss Muffet—Virginia Wallace.
7. The Spider—Carl Culp.
8. Mistress Mary, quite contrary—Pauline Reiner.
Flowers: (a) Pink Rose—Emma Hyatt; (b) Bluebell—Mildred Wallace; (c) Yellow Rose—Florence Kiley.
9. The Old Woman and Her Shoe—Ruby Murphy.
10. Little Bo-Peep—Mowena Cherry.
11. Mary, who had a little lamb—Llewellyn McCranie.
12. Mary's Lamb—"Lamb" Saleeby.
13. Jack Be Nimble—Ralph Stepp.
14. Little Boy Blue—Malcolm West.
15. Jack Horner—Nelson Gibson.
16. Queen of Hearts—Frances Deveaux.
17. Knave of Hearts—LeRoy Mullis.
18. Rock a Bye Baby—Josephine Arnette and Elizabeth Kelly.

The children in their quaint costumes were extremely attractive, and the pleasure with which they entered into their respective parts was indicative of the interest that their daily exercises provide.

This is the first year of the Kindergarten Class, and already it has shown its value in the school system.

Miss Walke was highly congratulated by the visitors who came to see the program.

Red Cross Benefit Success

Jubilee Entertainers Score Big Hit in Vaudeville Sketch, Wednesday, May 21 Program

1. Charlie Chaplin, in "Shoulder Arms."
2. Darktown Serenade: Ephraim Snow, Ham Shakefoot, Slim Stringfellow, Ebenezer Gray.
3. Breakdown Jig: Ham Shakefoot and Sam Snakefoot.
4. Symphony Trio: Violet Small, Absalom Brown, and Ebenezer Gray.
5. Cakewalk: Mary Ella Prune and Ebenezer Gray; Violet Small and Ham Shakefoot; Dinah Click and Sam Snakefoot; Pansy Johnson and Ephraim Snow.
6. Sampson: Hercules Strong.
7. Dancing Doll: Dorothy Sweet.
8. Quartet: Messrs. Dotson, Rice, Richards, and Liles.

Cast

Ephraim Snow, Mr. Tom Moorman; Ham Shakefoot, Mr. R. V. Richards; Slim Stringfellow, Mr. B. S. Liles; Ebenezer Gray, Mr. A. J. Rice; Sam Snakefoot, Mr. Harry Swindell; Violet Small, Miss Irene Stacy; Absalom Brown, Mr. W. G. Dotson; Mary Ella Prune, Miss Louise Whitney; Dinah Click, Miss Bessie Cauble; Pansy Johnson, Miss Ruth Harris; Hercules Strong, Captain Hutchison; Dorothy Sweet, Miss

Sallie Walke; Director, Mrs. J. E. Thorpe; Stage Manager, Mr. Thomas Ham; Business Manager, Mrs. W. C. Dotson.

The Darktown Serenade consisted of quartet selections, and a howling version of "I'm Sorry I Made You Cry," by Messrs. Liles and Richards.

The Breakdown Jig, an old-fashioned negro number, was warmly applauded.

Miss Stacy, ukelele, Mr. Dotson, guitar, and Mr. Rice, mandolin, as the Symphony Trio, delighted the audience with their rendition of popular airs.

The Cakewalk was the hit of the evening. The four couples who composed this number caught the spirit of grace and abandon that characterizes this dance successfully, and the result was most pleasing.

Captain Hutchison, as Hercules Strong, put just the proper effort into the lifting of huge weights to make the farce complete when little Foster Thorpe removed them all from the stage at one turn.

An unscheduled number, Miss Green, Miss Whitley, and Miss Stacy, singing Coon songs, with an encore in high falsetto by Miss Harris, proved quite a success.

Miss Sallie Walke, as Dorothy Sweet, the Dancing Doll, came in for her share of well-merited applause. The perfect mechanical precision of the act, and the general doll effect, were admirably rendered.

Messrs. Dotson, Rice, Richards, and Liles answered repeated calls for encores on the quartet selections that made up the final number.

The originality of the costumes, the admirable adaptation of the parts, and the smoothness with which the performance proceeded drew much favorable comment from the audience. Of course the children vociferously expressed their approval of Charlie Chaplin, in "Shoulder Arms."

Quite a tidy sum was realized for the Badin School Library Fund.

Mrs. Wake Returns

Mrs. H. R. Wake, and Bobbie, have returned from a trip to New York. Mrs. Wake visited in Westfield, N. J., and from there had several delightful trips by car to nearby points of interest.

Mr. J. E. S. Thorpe has returned from a trip which included New York and other cities in the East.