

The Colored Village

THE Tallassee Power Company has established, and maintains, at BADIN, one of the best colored villages, if not the best, in the South.

Its houses are comfortable, each and every house equipped with electric lights and running water. The sanitary condition is carefully looked after, sewers over the entire village, and everything possible is done, without thought of expense, for the welfare of its colored employees.

There are sufficient houses built, or being built from time to time, to care for all the men required, and they take special interest in securing the better-class of men, who wish to come to BADIN with the idea of bettering themselves and making it a permanent home. The work here, as described in this booklet, is permanent, and the colored man is having offered him the chance of a lifetime.

FOR SINGLE MEN—There are a number of boarding-houses, such as shown above, maintained under the supervision of the Company, at which good board can be had at as reasonable a rate as possible, ranging from $4.50 to $6.00 per week.

HOUSE RENT—Rents are low. Three-room houses rent for five dollars per month; four-room single houses, $6.50; two rooms—one-half of a double house—$3.25.

The advantages in BADIN are too numerous to mention all of them. Come, and see for yourself.

What the Tallassee Power Company Offers

We are publishing, on the following pages, an article by Prof. E. G. Harris, principal of the colored schools of BADIN, which will give you an idea of what this Company offers, practically free; in fact, the school advantages for both the young and the old are absolutely free.
