

Cloudbusters Favored Over Harvard

25,000 Fans Expected For Game At Boston

By LT. (JG) DAN PARTNER

Boston, Mass., Sept. 25.—Everyone, it seems, is ready for tomorrow's football game here between Harvard and the Cloudbusters—except Harvard. A crowd of approximately 25,000 fans is expected to click the turnstiles to see Coach Dick Harlow and his Crimson make their season's debut in the stadium.

That little 61 to 0 incident last Saturday at Lawrence, Kan., where the Iowa Cadets ran over the University of Kansas, is playing a large part in pre-game forecasts here. While most of the Boston writers expect the 'Busters to win by a comfortable margin, Head Coach Lt. Comdr. James Crowley, upon arrival with his squad this afternoon, said, "I'll be satisfied with a 1-point victory."

Harvard is expected to play a strictly defensive game tomorrow, using unorthodox defenses freely in the attempt to stop the 'Buster backs. Said Coach Harlow: "To cover up our weaknesses, we are going to come up with the ultimate in screwballistics."

noted for their improvement as the season progresses.

Coach Crowley is expected to name a 'Buster team averaging 186 pounds per man to answer the opening whistle. The starting eleven, with two exceptions, is the same that opened fire against Catawba, Sept. 12.

Gene Goodreault, former All-American end at Boston College, is slated to start at right wing in place of Bob King, and "Smoky Joe" Martin, of Cornell's Big Red team last season, will get the call at fullback, replacing Fred Vanzo.

Running with Martin will be Bill Krywicki, ex-Fordham regular, at quarterback; Mort Landsberg, star of the 1940 Cornell team, at right halfback; and Leonard Eshmont, former

Three Records Set In Military Track

By CADET LOUIS CALDER

Three records were shattered in last Friday's inter-squadron military track competition—in the 120-yard low hurdles, the shotput, and the 440-yard relay.

Cadet R. O. Shaffer of the Buccaneers lopped four-tenths of a second off the record of 15.9 seconds held jointly by C. H. Carr of the Wildcats and J. S. Gilman of the Mustangs in the 120-yard low hurdles. Shaffer then teamed up with Cadets F. I. Frantell, H. Werner, and W. Watkins, to hang up a new mark of 48 seconds flat in the 440-relay. The old record of 48.3 was held by the Buffalo team of Cadets Callahan, Muller, Baker, and Steinberger.

Cadet C. A. Robertson of the Helldivers heaved the 12-pound shot 44 feet, 11 inches, a substantial improvement over the old distance of 40 feet 8½ inches set by Derr of the Wildcats.
