New Scoring Method for Boxing Introduced

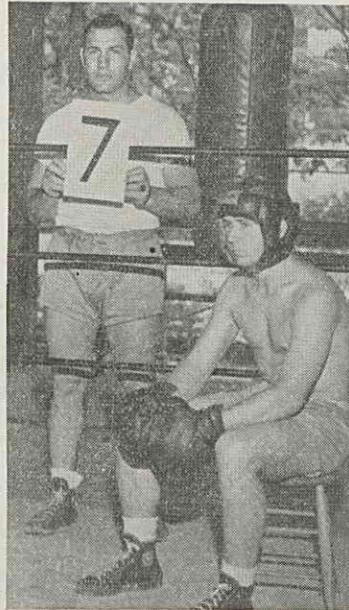

Lt. Comdr. Carruthers

A new way to score boxing, one that will let both the participant and spectator know how the fight is progressing at the end of each round, has just been introduced to Pre-Flight cadets by Lt. Alfred Wolff, USNR, Head Boxing Coach.

Originated by Lt. Comdr. Thomas M. Carruthers, USNR, who has been a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association Boxing Rules Committee since 1937 and who is also a member of the Olympic Boxing Committee, the new system has proved very popular here.

"Other sports," says Lt. Comdr. Carruthers, "keep both the participants and spectators informed as the contest goes on. But in boxing no one knows anything—unless it is a knockout—until the

Game Scheduled Here Tomorrow For 1445

Cadet Joseph Coleman, who earlier in the season defeated the Naval Air Station at Norfolk, 3 to 2, will be the pitching choice of Lt. George D. Kepler, USNR, head Cloudbuster coach, when the two clubs meet on Emerson Field tomorrow afternoon at 1445. Coleman, who is a former Philadelphia Athletic hurler, has won three games and lost none since reporting here three weeks ago as a Pre-Flight cadet.

Tonight at Greensboro the Cloudbusters tackle the Naval Air Station in Memorial Stadium at 2030. Cadet John Sain, ex-Boston Braves, will get the Pre-Flight pitching assignment.

Some of the finest players in baseball compose the two squads. On the visiting Naval Air Station nine are such standouts as Short-stop Reese and Pitcher Hugh Casey, ex - Brooklyn Dodgers; Third Baseman Murray Franklin, star with the Detroit Tigers last year; First Baseman Edward Shokes, ex-Duke star and Cincinnati Red property; Second Baseman Davis, another former Duke athlete who played for the Philadelphia Athletics last season.

The present Cloudbuster nine is one of the top service teams in the country. Since the present team has been together only one game has been lost, and the Pre-Flighters have scored 61 runs in seven contests. Lt. (jg) John A. Hassett, USNR, ex-Yankee first baseman, leads the club at the plate with 11 hits in 20 trips to the plate for a .550 average. He has four runs batted in to his credit and has hit a double and home run.

Cadet Williams has four hits in eight tries, one a homer for a .500 percentage followed by Cadet Pesky at .461. The latter has been to bat 26 times and collected 12 hits, eight RBI's, three doubles and three triples.

Cadet Louis Grep, Boston Braves first baseman of last year, is hitting .433. He has 13 hits in 30 attempts—five RBI's, three doubles, a triple and home run.

There is a chance that Hugh Casey, the former Brooklyn Dodger, will be on the mound for the Air Station here tomorrow.

credited with his third win in as many starts.

Pre-Flight Teams Trounce Three Camp Butner Nines Over Week End

Allowing but one run in three games the big three of the Cloudbuster mound staff—Lt. (jg) Robert Williams, USNR, and Cadets Joseph Coleman and John Sain—had little trouble with Camp Butner opposition here last week end.

Playing two games on Saturday and a single encounter Sunday afternoon the Cloudbusters scored 40 runs on 37 hits while the opposition gathered but one run and 13 hits.

Saturday's first game saw the Pre-Flight officers defeat the officers from the 311th Infantry, Camp Butner, 15 to 0. Starting strong, the winners scored five runs in the first inning climaxed by Lt. Alexander Sabo's, USNR, long homer over the centerfielder's head with two mates on base.

Ens. William Krywicki, USNR, hit a round tripper in the fourth with one on, and Lt. (jg) John A. Hassett, USNR, collected three singles in four trips to the plate. Pitcher Williams tripled in the second with two on.

Almost a repetition of the first game was the second encounter between the Pre-Flight Cadets and the enlisted men from the 311th Infantry.

Behind the two hit pitching of Cadet John Sain the locals won, 14 to 0.

Cadet Theodore Williams, starting his first game in a Cloudbuster uniform, hit a homer to right field his first time up. In the third he connected for a single to give him two hits in three appearances at bat.

Cadet F. C. Eastman, who has been playing excellent defensive ball, snapped out of a hitting slump collecting two doubles and a single in four tries.

While the 11 to 1 score does not indicate much of a ball game the Sunday contest between the Cloudbusters and the 309th Infantry, Camp Butner, saw both teams play some smart baseball.

A triple by Urish followed by Garland's single produced the only tally made by the visitors.

After Cadet Albert Marchand was out, short to first, and Cadet John Pesky flied out to the third baseman, Lt. (jg) John A. Hassett, USNR, hit a homer down the left field foul line in the opening frame. Two more runs scored in the fourth when Cadet Theodore Williams walked, went to third on Cadet Louis Grep's double, and scored, along with the latter, when Ensign Edward Moriarity, USNR, connected for a one base blow.

Cadet Joseph Coleman handled the pitching duties and was
