"Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."—MATTHEW 11:28.

When we see that in Jesus Christ God has been fully made known, then to us and to all people the Great Invitation is extended to come to Him, just as we are—rich or poor, good or bad, blind or seeing, ignorant or understanding, proud or humble—we are all to come unto Him.

"Come" is a word of the world also. From every evil in the world is flashed out the invitation, "Come," skillfully camouflaged by the devil himself. We are told that we can sow all the seeds of sin—hatred, greed, pride, envy, all ungodliness—without reaping the harvest of death. But the good in us which has not been stifled cries out against this untruth.

But in God's "Come," lies the only hope of a hopeless world. It is the same word, spelled and pronounced like the word of the world, but it holds an eternal, God-filled meaning. And every wandering, sin-sick soul may find by coming to Him the absolute truth of His promise: "Him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out."

... On The Lighter Side ...

The difference between a regular sailor and a Seabee is that while the sailor is looking for a park bench the Seabee builds one.

* * * * *

Doctor: "Tell me, Sarge, how do you feel when you actually kill a man?"

Marine Sgt.: "Not bad, doc. How about you?"

* * * * *

No matter what you do, somebody always knew you would.

* * * * *

Why do servicemen, particularly sailors, always smile when passing through a town they are confronted with this sign: "Drive carefully, the children in the street may be yours."

* * * * *

Sign on back of car carrying newly-wed sailor and his bride:

"Careless Talk Caused This."

* * * * *

The Navy cook had just whipped up orders of fried eggs for his hungry mob of sailors. Wearing by his herculean efforts, he sat down, yawned, lit a black cigar and wrote a letter to his sweetheart.

"Darling," he began, "for the past three hours, shells have been bursting all around me."

Multiply your age by 2 and add 5 to the result.

Multiply by 50.

Add the change in your pocket, if less than a dollar.

Subtract the number of days in the year—365.

Add 115 for good measure.

The two left-hand figures will show your age.

The two right-hand figures will show the change in your pocket.

* * * * *

Hear about the ram that committed suicide? He heard Sinatra sing "There Will Never Be Another Ewe."

* * * * *

"Today I became a mother."

"You a mother, incredible, my dear fellow, give out."

"Yesterday I met a girl with a face only a mother could love. Today I found out she's worth six million dollars—today I became a mother."

* * * * *

They say brunettes have sweeter dispositions than blondes. Well, my girl's been both, and I haven't seen any difference.

FAIR QUESTION!...NO, I'M NOT ALLERGIC TO BRASS...I COULD GO INTO A PITCH ABOUT THE O.D. JOKERS HAVING FEWER PRIVILEGES AND ALL THAT... BUT YOU KNOW THOSE REASONS

IT SOUNDS SORTA CORNY TO TELL IT, BUT I'VE GOT A JOB TO DO TILL YOU ALL GET BACK TO STRIPED NECKTIES!...YOU BRASSIES RATE A SALUTE FROM ALL E.M. — BUT JOE GEE OFTEN FORGETS THAT CIVILIANS WOULD LIKE TO TOUCH THEIR CAPS TO HIM, IF THEY KNEW HOW!... I'M HERE TO PROVIDE SOMEONE TO SALUTE HIM FIRST!... THEN HE PASSES IT ON TO YOU!... BUT DON'T BE DISCOURAGED — YOU MIGHT GET THE BREAKS ANYTIME... HMMM?
