"Does anyone else want to get married?" Captain E. E. Hazlett popped the question after giving away Lindy at the wedding rehearsal. Lindy and Top, more formally named Orilla Maretta Lindsey, Y3/c, and Harold Drew Tabbutt, 1st Sergeant, USMC, were married at 6 o'clock Friday evening in the USNROTTC Armory.

Our chaplain, Lieut. W. A. Alexander, performed the double ring ceremony. We thought the bride and groom looked pretty special, Lindy wearing her white dress uniform and carrying a white Bible with markers of white gardenias, and Top in his dress Marine blues. Louise, Lindy's sister, was maid of honor, and Sgt. Marshall N. Rosier, USMC, best man. Twelve honor guards from the Marine V-12 Unit flashed their bayonets and formed an arch for the couple to pass through at the end of the ceremony.

The guests reported aboard the U. S. S. Dickson immediately after the wedding, logged in with the Mate of the Deck and, as the invites read, were definitely on their own. The grinningly happy couple left for a honeymoon through New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania.

Henry Pigon, S2c, shouted over the phone last week, "Oh, my word, how is she, what's her name?" when he learned he had an eleven-pound daughter, Joyce Carol. The proud father now rates a five-day leave to Chicago. Do you know the old diaper routine, Hank?

Barbara Earp, Y3/c, dashed back from her leave spent in an impenetrable section of Virginia to land herself in the hospital with a case of cat fever. She spent her sick leave catching up on her love-story magazine reading, rugged duty.

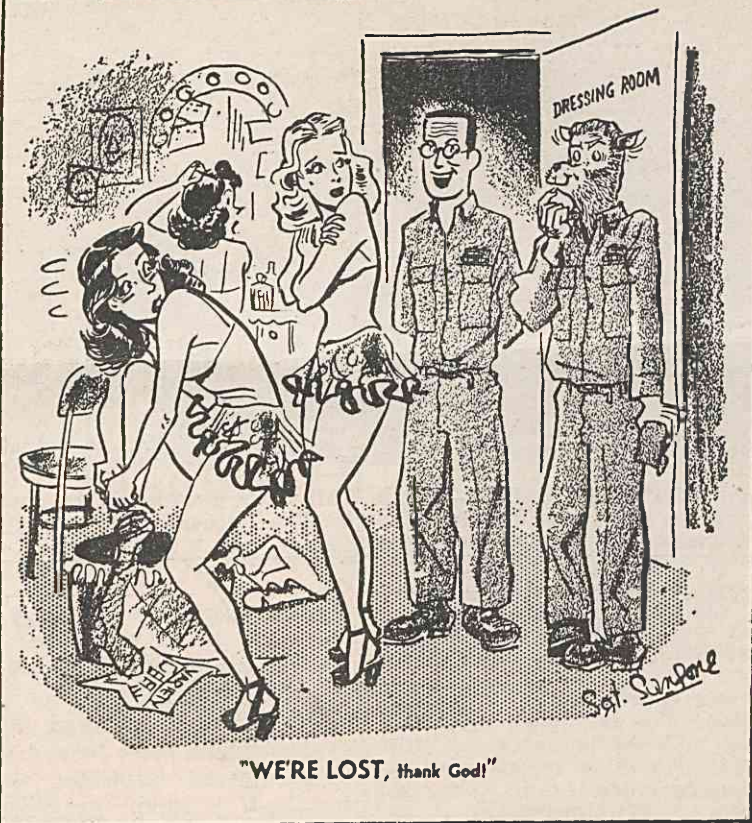

All we said this week was that lonesome word, "Goodbye." The incomparable Exec Office team, Dick and Webb, left us and a lot of fun went with them. Charles W. Keenan, Y1c, departed on Sept. 11 for Naval Separation Center, Washington, D. C. and for a civilian life of wearing tan gabardine suits and reading gas meters in Baltimore. Cecil Webber, Y2/c, our former personnel yeoman and your "buddy-buddy," kissed all the girls "Goodbye" and flooded Alex Hall with tears when he fled on Monday morning to U. S. Naval Hospital, Portsmouth, Va. He hopes to be a petroleum engineer, but first he plans to rejoin his wife in Hudson, Mich. Webb's most famous remark, "Marriage is a fine institution. No family should be without it."

ferred on Sept. 8 to Camp Wallace, Texas for duty. Elmer A. Solberg, S2c, from Communications went with them, and they all seemed excited at the prospect of being sailor cowboys.

increase of 423,000 over the 327,000 who became eligible on Aug. 15 when the Navy first announced its demobilization plans.

Approximately 1,100 doctors will become eligible for release tomorrow. A total of 20,000 pharmacist's mates and 9,000 hospital corpsmen become eligible for separation at the same time. Approximately 500 nurses also are eligible for release on Sept. 15. Dentists have been eligible for release since Aug. 15 under the same critical score as other officers, 49 points.

In the original plan the Navy's goal for demobilization was set at the release of 2,500,000 persons in 12 to 18 months. On Aug. 27 the Secretary of the Navy announced the Navy's intention to release all but 500,000 men and 58,000 officers by Sept. 1, 1946.

Revised Formula

The revised formula for release provides one-half point for each month of service on active duty since Sept. 1, 1939; one-half point for each year of age, computed to nearest birthday; 10 points for a state of dependency existing as of Aug. 15, 1945, and beginning tomorrow one-fourth point for each month of active duty outside the United States since Sept. 1, 1939.

As previously announced, the Navy's demobilization plan applies only to Naval Reserve personnel and to enlisted personnel of the Regular Navy serving under extended enlistments. No reduction in the critical scores was announced, since the addition of credit for service outside

Rear Adm. Denfeld Is New Chief Of Naval Personnel

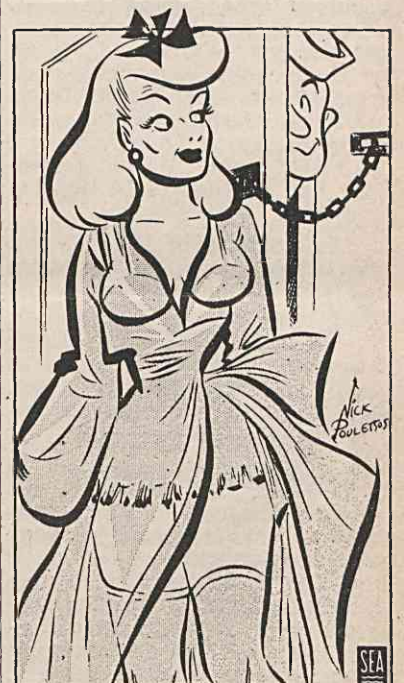

Washington, (SEA)—With a "well done" from SecNav for his three and one-half years as Chief of Naval Personnel, Vice Admiral Randall Jacobs will be relieved Sept. 15 by Rear Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, formerly second in command at BuPers and more recently commander of a battleship division in the Pacific. Admiral Jacobs' new assignment will be announced soon.

BuPers' five major problems now that Japan has surrendered, according to Admiral Denfeld, will be: (1) the transfer of sufficient reserve officers to operate the peacetime Navy; (2) rapid and orderly demobilization; (3) replacement of older Admirals and senior officers with younger men; (4) possible retention of the WAVES in a postwar Navy; (5) revision of the Navy's educational system to fit future needs.

Seeking to transfer 300,000 reservists to the regular Navy, the new Bureau head promised equality of treatment to all men with no room for distinctions between one group and another.

this country more than doubles the original number eligible for separation. The critical scores remain 44 for male enlisted personnel, 29 for female enlisted personnel, 49 for male commissioned and warrant officers, except 60 for male doctors and 44 for naval aviators in flight status, 35 for female commissioned and warrant officers and members of the Nurse Corps.
