Follow these guidelines for international travel

Planning a trip to London via Piedmont? When you travel internationally, a different set of procedures applies to non-revenue travel.

CLT

- Allow at least one hour for check-in. Often, non-revenue passengers are arriving at CLT on the same push as the departing LGW flight, and this may mean less than 20 minutes for check-in. Make plans to take an earlier flight.
- You are allowed only one piece of carry-on luggage on an international flight. When the flight is heavily-booked, non-revs are cleared last. By then, the overhead bins and garment closets may be full, so agents must tag and carry non-rev baggage down the jetway stairs. This extra step may delay the flight, thus affecting our on-time performance.
- Take care of the extra charges (user fees) at your originating station. Find out what fees are applicable and what documents you'll need beforehand. You can take care of these fees and documents days before your departure, saving our CLT agents extra work.

LGW

- Check in at the ticket counter two hours before departure.
- Wait away from the ticket counter to be called.
- If you are cleared for business class, remember to sign your payroll deduction form.
- After being cleared, go to the check-in counter to receive your boarding pass and check your bags.
- Go through passport control and out to the gate where you will be boarded if seats are still available.

By following these guidelines, you can help Piedmont's on-time performance and lessen the workload for fellow employees. Happy traveling!

What about travel to Nassau? Following are a few pointers.

- Allow an hour for check-in at BWI or CLT and on the return, an hour at NAS.
- Carry on no more than one piece of luggage.
- Remember to sign your payroll deduction form if traveling first class.
- Carry with you proof of citizenship, i.e., a passport or birth certificate with a photo I.D. This is required both for entry into and departure out of Nassau.
