

A Letter To Highlands con't.
to Sunday School, our faces shining like red apples - our eyes aglow with a childlike faith. Oh! those never to be forgotten days! I am glad that I have them with me yet all safely locked inside my heart.

Highlands, there is no place in all the world like you! I am ever thankful that God selected you for my birthplace. I am grateful to you for all the beauty you have given to me which is imprinted upon my soul for all eternity. I carry your singing waters with me in my heart to tide me over the rough places in life, and in times of deep despire I lift up mine eyes unto your hills from whence cometh my help. God has blest you Highlands, and may He continue to do so forever and ever.

Burnette-Wetmore wedding con't.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin and Chantilly lace with a fitted bodice joined to a scalloped lace yoke. The long sleeves tapered to points at the wrist and the full skirt ended in a train. Her two-tiered veil of imported illusion was caught to a coronet of lace and seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and satin streamers.

Miss Jerry Lee McJunkin of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. and Highlands was maid of honor. Her gown of dusty pink taffeta was fashioned with a wide scalloped bertha. She carried a Colonial bouquet of blue asters. Bridesmaids were Miss Jan Burnette, sister of the bride, and Miss Rosemarie Wetmore, sister of the bridegroom. They wore pastel blue taffeta dresses made similar to that of the maid of honor.

Robert Dorris of Miami and Highlands was best man and (con't. page 7)
