ANNUAL HOSPITAL BAZAAR JULY 28 AND 29 AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Highlands-Cashiers Hospital Auxiliary will sponsor its annual bazaar at the educational building of the Presbyterian church on Friday, July 28th from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p.m., and on Saturday from 9:00 a. m. until noon.

Many groups have been busy throughout the year making the great variety of items that will be sure to please you: the Highlands-Cashiers Garden Club will have potted plants and ceramics as well as litter bags to "help keep America beautiful."

The Satulah Club will sponsor the white elephant booth; the Methodist Churchwomen will have a (CON'D, PAGE 13)

KALEIDOSCOPE

-- MRS. ROBERT DUPREE

"Like a prismatic glass, It . . . ranges
Through all the moods that pass."

-- Noyes

Want to catch the varied reflections on a typical day in Highlands? Then get out early in the morning; see the road crew painting on the highway or the town crew tidying up the right-of-way. Watch the forest service men starting out for a day's work; notice that one stiffling a yawn as he goes by.

Be on Main Street at mail time. Get into the jerky traffic, or walk and loiter on the sidewalk to chat with some long-lost acquaintance met there by chance.
Notice the two women (CON'D ON PAGE 14)

HIGHLANDS SQUARE DANCE FESTIVAL AUGUST 10TH

The Annual Square Dance Festival will be held this year in the Highlands School Auditorium on August 10th. The festival, which will begin at 8:30 p.m., is sponsored by the Highlands Chamber of Commerce. Admission is a $2.00 donation.

Several out-of-town dance teams have been contacted, but word has not yet been received as to who will definitely participate. The Helen's Barn Cloggers of Highlands will be one of the competing teams. (CON'T ON PAGE 18)
