STORM DAMAGES WCU

A severe storm struck Cullowhee, N. C., early Monday afternoon, slicing a 200 yard-wide swath of destruction through the east campus of Western Carolina University.

High winds, hail, and rain dipped into the small Jackson County town at 12.50 p.m., roared along an eastwardly course for about a half mile across the campus, and lifted almost as suddenly as they had come.

In their wake were damaged buildings, scores of uprooted trees, and a Weather Bureau storm warning for 13 western counties that remained in effect until 6 p.m.

Cullowhee apparently was the hardest hit, but the storm touched in Rutherford County later in the day. Hard rains and thunderstorms occurred as far east as Charlotte.

No serious injuries were reported.

Some observers described the Cullowhee storm as a tornado. Several university employees said a characteristic tornado funnel (CON'T ON P. 20)

"WAIT UNTIL DARK"

Lisa (Samantha Jones) is acting as a narcotics courier when she meets Sam Hendrix (Efrem Zimbalist, Jr.) on a plane from Montreal. When they arrive in New York, she passes a doll containing smuggled heroin to the innocent Sam as part of her scheme to double-cross the syndicate's boss, Roat (Alan Arkin). Con-men Mike Talman (Richard Crenna) and Carlino (Jack Weston) keep a rendezvous in a Greenwich Village apartment they believe to be Lisa's. They are joined by Roat, who has murdered Lisa. He blackmails Mike and Carlino into helping him dispose of the body. They also join him in a plan to get the doll from Sam Hendrix's wife, Susy (Audrey Hepburn). Since Susy is blind, a neighbor's child, Gloria, helps with the chores and, in Sam's absences, acts as Susy's eyes. Sam, a freelance photographer, is lured away from the apartment on a phoney job assignment, and the three thugs try to get Susy to turn over the doll to them.

The film plays Tuesday-Wednesday, July 1-2, at the GALAX THEATRE.
