Mr. Williams is presently en route to Aspen, Colorado, to participate in the 20th anniversary celebrations of the Aspen Institute for Humanistic Studies, where he was scholar-in-residence for 1967-68. The Jargon Society, Inc., of which he is executive director at Penland School of Crafts, Penland, North Carolina, has recently been recipient of two grants from the National Endowment for the Arts to aid in the publishing of new poets and writers. An article on Penland School by Jonathan Williams will appear in the next issue

"ANZIO"

Dino de Laurentiis' epic production of "Anzio," World War II drama starring Robert Mitchum, plays Thursday, June 26, at the GALAX THEATRE. The Columbia Pictures release, filmed in Panavision and Technicolor, was directed by Edward Dmytryk. Co-starring are Peter Falk, Earl Holliman, Mark Damon, Reni Santoni, Thomas Hunter, Anthony Steel and Wayde Preston with Arthur Kennedy and special guest star Robert Ryan as General Carson. "Anzio" was produced by Dino de Laurentiis from a screenplay by Harry A. L. Craig based on the book by Wynford Vaughan-Thomas.

Robert Mitchum, as a veteran war correspondent in "Anzio," finds himself trapped behind German lines along with Peter Falk, and a handful of other Allied soldiers. Peter Falk, as a Canadian commando, has his own way of preparing to take part in the invasion of "Anzio".
