LAST CALL FOR WHITE ELEPHANTS!

Have you some of those delightful creatures, known as WHITE ELEPHANTS, still lurking around your home and pretending to be glass, china, silver, table linen or most anything except clothing? You have!! Oh, but that is welcome news. Do please bring them to the Educational Building at the Presbyterian Church Thursday, July 24. Here they will join the rest of the herd on the Satulah Club's White Elephant Table at the Hospital Bazaar. Here they will find new owners to whom they will bring much joy and in doing so will bring much m-o-n-e-y to the Hospital Bazaar which will be July 25th, 9-5 and Saturday 9-12.

Many a Christmas and Birthday problem can be solved by gifts of charm and distinction from the White Elephant Table. Here you will find etched, green glass salad plates on which to serve the coolest of summer salads. From Sweden a handwoven table cloth and a dozen napkins. For that tall, distinguished gentleman, who could do with a bit of pampering, there is a 6 foot three, custom-made cherry bed complete with box spring and mattress. From the treasure chest there are two embroidered and fringed shawls, one of cream colored silk and one of the sheerest, white wool, to grace my lady's shoulders when she goes to the Little Theatre or a very, special party. Then there are two scatter rugs to please the eye and make the room look less bare...one American Persian and one persian inspired. Great is the variety of the white elephants the Satulah Club has for you to choose from... until the door opens at nine on Friday morning not a WHITE ELEPHANT will be sold or even deftly slipped outside.

Nature Walk

On Wednesday, July 30, Mr. C. H. Ekdahl will conduct a nature walk. The walk is primarily adult-oriented and will focus on botanical aspects of the area, though other types of wildlife will be mentioned. Mr. Ekdahl is a field trip leader of the Halifax River Audubon Society. He has studied the Highlands area over a period of many years and is very well acquainted with the native plants and birds. All those interested should meet at the Museum; the group will leave promptly at 8:30 a.m.

Attend the church of your choice Sunday.
