THANKS FOR EVERYTHING!

As the 19th year of the Galax News ends, the editorial staff of Dotty, Susan and Sarah are sadly (?) putting the covers on their typewriters and saying "See you next year" to their good friends, the advertisers and readers who make the Galax possible. (CONT'D ON PAGE 11)

CIAIRE LUCE IN "CAVE DWELLERS" TONIGHT

"The Cave Dwellers," William Saroyan's charming fantasy, closes the successful 1970 summer stock season at the Highlands Community Theatre August 27-30.

The nostalgic and sentimental tale about actors, clowns and circus performers stars Claire Luce of London and Broadway fame and Daytona Beach actor, Bob Niemyer.

Performances are scheduled Thursday through Saturday nights at 8:30 p.m. with a closing matinee Sunday, August 30, at 2:30 p.m. Tickets are now on sale at Wit's End Shop, Main Street, between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Telephone reservations are accepted by calling 526-2695. Admission is $3 for adults and $2 for students.

START OF GALAX NEWS

The Galax News was first started in 1952 by Mr. Otto Summer's daughter, Mary, when she was still a high school student in Highlands. She recognized the need for a local publication to help the tourists and summer residents get acquainted with the Highlands area and also introduce them to the year-round residents.

Her action grew out of the fact that her father, then principal of the Highlands School, had published a mimeographed paper some years before in which was published local news and ads as well as Galax Theatre programs.

SCHOOL REGISTRATION TOMORROW

Don't forget, kids, tomorrow, August 28 is Registration Day at school - so be there with bells on! School doesn't officially start until Monday, August 31, so you will have one last weekend to do all those things you haven't gotten around to all summer.

The 5th grade will be included in the non-graded program.
