GLEE CLUB STARTS YEAR SUCCESSFULLY

First Appearance Made On Home-coming Day. Programs Planned.

The A. C. C. Glee Club is a very talented and well trained group of thirty members. This club, which is under direction of Mrs. Hinton, president of home, is developing into one of the most smoothly cooperative musical groups which the College has ever had.

Making its first public appearance on Home-coming Day, the club gave two very harmonious and enjoyable selections which contributed much to the pleasure of all and inspired the home coming spirit with the ringing of a sinner and better college.

The club appears at the Christmas concert at Greenville recently where it presented two different programs. Much attention was given to the morning and evening numbers at the evening concert.

On November 24, the club will have charge of the services at the Wilson Christian Church. Later the Glee Club and Music Department under supervision of Mrs. Hinton and Mrs. Yarnall will be in preparation for Christmas program to be given on Sunday before the holidays at the Wilson Episcopal Church.

BOYS BEING TRAINED IN SCOUTMASTERS COURSE

The Scoutmasters Training Course is a course for college boys to train them in the scoutmasters and scout leaders. The course, led by Mr. John J. Maxwell, local scout executive, includes twelve weekly meetings which are held every Thursday night.

At the end of the course all the boys whose attendance has been satisfactory and who have made satisfactory progress will be awarded diplomas. The diploma will be awarded by Mr. Maxwell at a banquet to be held at one of the local cafes or hotels during the National Anniversary Week.

One of the most interesting meetings held so far was the meeting of Nov. 8, which was held at Camp Charles, the Wilson Area Camp, about camp. The members went out to the camp at 1:30 and after receiving instructions on various phases of scout work, they all cooked supper out in the open. After playing scout games, an address on "The Outlook in Scouting" was given by the new Assistant Scout Executive, Mr. "Buster" Keston. The boys returned to Wilson about 8:45.

The College boys who take the course are: Elbert Southard, Hland Wesley, Jr., Robert Holsback, Kenneth Trench, James Watson, Edwin Taylor, A. J. Moss, Robert Dixon, William Tye, C. C. Walters, George Banks, Bruce Ward, J. H. Manning, Billy Pearce and Eugene Taylor.

States army aviators, picked from various air corps stations throughout the nation, are taking a course in blind flying and navigation at Rockwell field, San Diego.

A man drowned himself recently at Baltimore by wading out into a river until the water closed over his head. Two policemen tried to stop him but he was too far out.

MARTHA BRINSON

Freshman—How can you tell a professor from a student?
Upper Classman—Ask him what the word "it" means and if he says it's a pronoun he's a professor.

They had gone just a few miles when Rosemond said, "Now, before we go any farther, I want you to understand that I don't flirt, so don't try to hold my hand or kiss me. Is that quite clear?"
Curtis gulped and said, "Yes."
"Now," said Rosemond brightly, "since that is settled and done with, where shall we go?"
Curtis murmured, "Home."

Mr. Hamlin (in history): "I want all you pupils to find out about some engagement in Wilson during the Revolution."

Quincy Wallace: "Aho! That's easy. Lots of people were getting married then."

Brantley: "Once while I was having a meal in the jungle a lion came so close to me that I felt his breath on the back of my neck. What did I do?"
Faye: "Turn your collar up!"

A. C. Lawton: "I'm rather good at imitation. I imitate almost any bird you can name."
Lalah Driver: "How about a bounding pigeon?"

Mr. Hodges: "What is steam?"
Hugh Cherry: "Water going crazy with the heat."

Oscar: "I found out that Eleanor had a fever blister."
Phillip: "How did you find out?"
Oscar: "I got it from her own lips."

Mr. Bullock: "Listen Millard, do you think you are teacher of this class?"
Millard: "No, Sir."

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED FOR FORENSIC GROUP

The Forensic group is an argumentative and debating club consisting of twelve members and under supervision of Professor Grim. Its purpose is to promote interest among students of A. C. C. in the art of debate, and to train its members in public speaking and debating.

A constitution and by-laws have been drawn up, the name "Wranglers Club" has been chosen, and the following officers were elected: President, Oskel Doss, Vice President, Cora Lee Patterson; Secretary, Martha Brinson; Treasurer, O. P. Dickenson, and critic, Oscar Brinson.

First Meetings have been mainly taken up with short argumentative speeches and a study of some of the fundamentals of debating. Time has also been given to consideration of questions for practice and inter-collegiate debates. The group assembled for the South Atlantic Forensic tournament is "Resolved, That the Nations should agree to prevent the international shipment of arms and munitions."

Mr. Bullock: "Then don't talk like an idiot."
Bruce Ward: "I was told in my early youth that if I didn't stop smoking cigarettes I'd be feeble-minded."
Thelma Bowden: "Well, why didn't you?"
Hazel Garganus: "I'm going to kiss you like you've never been kissed before."
May Maine: "Oh, yes, I have."

Mr. Garrett: "Doc, why don't you work sometime? When I was your age I was working for $1.00 a week in a store, and at the end of five years I owned the store."
"Doc": "You can't do that now days. They have cash registers."

Mildred Cutler: "What do you mean by telling your boy friend that I was deaf and dumb?"
Nelda Sprull: "I didn't say deaf."

Chloe Roberson: "Have you heard the story about Lot's wife turning into a pillar of salt?"
Joe Gold: "That's nothing. The other day Mr. Hodges was looking at a pretty girl and he turned into a telephone pole."

Hand (walking down the street): "Where does this street go?"
Spiver: "It doesn't go anywhere. It stays right here."

Cora Lee Patterson: "I can't decide, whether to go to a palmist or a mind-reader."
Nell Harrison: "Go to a palmist. It's obvious that you have a palm."

Dennis: "I would like to buy a shirt."
Female Clerk: "Neck?"

Dennis: "Yes, but now I'd like a shirt."
Mickey: "You remind me of a bean."

Dupey: "Do you have a letter opened?"
Tommy: "Yes, my roommate."

Fig: "Why, is it because I'm less, deep, and romantic?"
Mickey: "No, you make me a

Fair enough—

WE tell you that Chesterfield Cigarettes are made of mild, ripe tobaccos. We've told you about the paper—that it's pure and burns right, without taste or odor. We have said that Chesterfields are made right. The tobaccos are aged, then blended and cross-blended, and cut into shreds the right width and length to smoke right. These things are done to make what people want—a cigarette that's milder, a cigarette that tastes better—a cigarette that satisfies.

You can prove what we tell you about Chesterfield. May we ask you to try them—that would seem to be fair enough.
