

MEN ORGANIZE NEW DORMITORY GOVERNMENT

Gala May Day Festival Held On College Campus

MEN'S STUDENT GOVERNMENT REALITY AS CONSTITUTION MEETS APPROVAL

Tyndall First President; Allen
Elected To Vice Presidency;
Todd Secretary.

STUDENTS ENTHUSIASTIC
Establishment Result of Move
Began In Mass Meeting
April 25th.

Many attempts have been made in preceding years to organize a system of student government for the boys who live on the campus, but for various reasons these attempts have not been successful. Unwilling to accept defeat, however, the boys decided to make another trial, working on the hypothesis that "if at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

Feeling an imperative need for self-government of the right type, a meeting was called on April 25th of all the boys living in the dormitory to discuss the possibilities of such an organization. At this meeting it was unanimously decided to try to put into effect an organization which would adequately meet the needs of the day. A committee was appointed, consisting of Paul Tyndall, Lynwood Phillips and Cornell Daughtry, to draw up a Constitution and By-Laws to be presented to all the boys living in the dormitory and annexes. On Wednesday night, May 8th, the committee presented its report to the boys in the College auditorium. After about three hours of heated debate and discussion, the Constitution and By-Laws were finally adopted and sent to the faculty for ratification.

This organization is to be known as "The Men's Dormitory Association of Atlantic Christian College." Its membership will consist of all the men students residing in the dormitory and annexes. Its purpose is to develop a finer spirit of cooperation on the campus, to encourage the growth of worthy ideals and traditions, and to assume the responsibilities for governing the dormitory life of the men students on the campus. As stated in the preamble of the Constitution, there is a desire for a closer relationship between the faculty and students and the desire for training in democratic living and good citizenship. According to the Constitution, the present governmental set-up includes the President, Vice-President, and Secretary-Treasurer, together with a judicial board known as the Senate. In addition to the routine organizational duties, the officers will be responsible for seeing that the governmental regulations are carried out. The President's task will be to act as judge in disciplinary matters, the Vice-President will act as prosecuting attorney and the different classes, are to serve as court clerk. The Senate members, composed of representatives from the different classes, are to serve as a jury and will be responsible for the passing of verdicts upon those who refuse to cooperate and who insist upon violating the laws and regulations.

It appears that this, another attempt, will prove most successful. For the most part, the new organization is hailed with enthusiasm and with the hope that next year the men students in a way that will bring credit both to the school and to the students as well. Following the adoption of this system of government, immediate steps were taken to put the plan into operation. On Tuesday night, May 14th, a formal election was held in the auditorium for the officers of the Association and the Senate members. The officers for next year consist of: Paul Tyndall, President and Judge; Randolph Allen, Vice-President and Prosecuting Attorney; and Curtis Todd, Secretary-Treasurer and Court Clerk. The members of the Senate include: Lynwood Phillips and Russell Jefferson, representing the Senior Class; Hassel Garganus and C. C. Walters, representing the Junior class; and Woodrow Forrest and Leon Denning, representing the Sophomore class. At the end of the first semester next year, the Freshman class will have the privilege of electing one of their members to the senate. In order that the purpose of the organization may be fully realized, there will be an advisory committee, consisting of the Dean of Men, who will confer with the officers and leaders from time to time and lend his assistance toward making the organization effective.

SOLITUDE.

The human heart will forever go out to the oppressed and to those unfortunates who are physically caged but whose spirits soar far out in a liberty loving swing. Such was the case with the operators of Radio Station W. P. T. F. in Raleigh when they dedicated the popular song "Solitude" to the "Campus Club" of A. C. College.

The members of this renowned "Campus Club" are the Misses Elaine Strickland, Mary Mayo, Bernice Robinson, Hazel Riley, and Marjorie Freeman. In many respects this is a unique club. Its name is derived from the fact that each of the charter members above have been requested to make the College Campus their sole stamping grounds for a certain length of time.

Some kind soul filled with the flow of the milk of human kindness and knowing that music has charms to soothe the savage breast requested W. P. T. F. to play at their regular morning program the endearing melody of "Solitude" to the attentive listeners of the "Campus Club."

The appropriateness of this song for the above club has already been indicated and could well serve the purpose of a club theme song.

The capture of those to whom the song was dedicated was indescribable and each member is overjoyed to feel that the world beyond is interested in her Aesthetic Welfare.

CHANGES MADE IN OLD CONSTITUTION

Revisions Made In View Of Faculty-Student Cooperation.

For the past few weeks the student body of A. C. College has been working on the revision of the old Constitution of the Student Association. The Constitution has been revised and is now being presented to the faculty for acceptance. The change made in the Constitution has been from the traditional faculty supervision to a system of Faculty-Student Cooperation.

The idea of faculty-student cooperation is prevalent in every college of North Carolina. At a recent meeting of the North Carolina Student Association it was revealed that A. C. College was the only higher institution of learning in the state to be governed by faculty supervision. Steps were taken to revise the old constitution and a committee was appointed to work this out. Members of this committee were Jacob Taylor, Oakel Bass, Myra Joyner.

The main change in the association constitution was in the matter of the student council. The main council will be composed of both the Men's Dormitory Council and the Women's Dormitory Council with two representatives from the day students. The President of the Student Association will preside over the meetings but will not vote. The Vice-President of the Association will act in the capacity of prosecuting attorney with the Secretary as Court Scribe.

The Men's newly organized Dormitory Council is composed of all members, two representatives from each class. Paul Tyndall is president of the Men's Dormitory Association.

The Women's Dormitory Association headed by Myra Joyner will send the same number of representatives to the major council as the men. The cases tried before these combined councils will be in the interest of the college.

Several hundred alumni and friends are expected to be present at the alumni banquet on Monday evening, May 27th and to take part in the annual business session that immediately follows the banquet.

Brinson Chosen As All-Round Student

Miss Kathleen Eagles Elected
Best All-Around Girl
Student In College.

At a recent election held in A. C. College on Tuesday, May 13, Mr. Oscar Brinson, of New Bern, N. C., was named the best all-round student and the best all-around boy student. Miss Kathleen Eagles of Saratoga, N. C., named the best all-around girl student. The election was based on scholarship, athletic participation, participation and leadership in extra-curricular activities, participation and direction in campus religious life, attitude in general, and participation and influence upon campus social life rather than upon popularity.

Both the students have been prominent leaders during the years they have attended school here. They have led activities in almost every field on the campus and are quite capable of upholding the honors accorded them.

Mr. Brinson is now a Junior in school and is President of his class. He is also vice-president and President-elect of the Student Association. His activities as one of the winning debaters for the Hesperian Literary Society won him much prominence this year. Mr. Brinson was one of the student cheer-leaders this year and his participation and influence upon campus life are very outstanding.

Miss Eagles is a prominent member of the Senior class and will graduate this year with honors. She was elected to the Alethian Literary Society this year and was an alternate debater last year. Miss Eagles is President of the Sigma Tau Chi Sorority and President of the Girls Athletic Club. She has for four years been one of the leading social lights on the campus and is very popular with the students.

The election of these students is wholly by student action and is not to be confused with the awarding of the Faculty Living Cup at the end of the year for the best all-round student.

In the future this election will be an annual event in the College and will be looked forward to with a great deal of interest.

CANNONBALL JR.

A few weeks ago the Student Association was greeted with the sad news that Cannonball had been thrown in jail and was at the moment awaiting the dog-catcher's gun.

The student's love for the brute was plainly shown when cries of "Shoot him, down with his flunk-bitten majesty" were heard from the assembly. A few of the more tenderhearted were quick to put in their word. "After all," they said, "he is a necessary part of the institution. Even though none of us have the slightest affection for him, we owe him the decency to try to save him from such a horrible fate. It is true that for the last few months he has been a stone around our necks, so to speak, with his incessant barking in the halls and his general quarrelsome and vicious disposition. We do not think it would be stretching the point to say that his presence has created a general foul atmosphere, not only in the field of sports but in every college activity. Why the beast was installed in the first place is beyond us; it would have been quite as easy to have obtained a more docile and cooperative soul. Until we can do better, however, we owe it to the fair name of our college to save the creature from the unqualified humiliation of death by a dog-catcher's gun."

Many of the students persisted in their pleas for the immediate disposal of Cannonball but the majority finally yielded to save the dog provided he was sold at the first opportunity.

The dance of Debutantes next on the program, was directed by Miss Mildred Powell. The men were dressed in black flowered costumes, which flowered just above their ankles. The women were dressed in white knee length dresses with yellow blouses. Those who took part in this dance were as follows: Kathleen Swindell and Grace Westbrook, Faye Mobley and Edith Atline, Mildred Cutler (Continued on Page Three)
