

ATLANTIC CHRISTIAN COLLEGE, OCTOBER 16, 1937.

NO. 2

Home-Coming Day To Be Observed Here On Saturday October 23rd

ALUMNI LUNCHEON 1:00 and Concert At 10:30; Assembly In Gymnasium At 11:00 A. M.

Sophomore Boys Put On Council

JAMES, EDGERTON WIN OVER MOYE, JOHNSON

The boys' dormitory association in a special meeting called by President A. J. Moye elected two sophomore representatives Monday night, September 27. These two vacancies were created when "Mutt" Subor failed to return to school as a campus resident and Jarvis Daniels dropped out after the second week.

There seems to have been some irregularity in the first election, which was held a week prior to the date mentioned above. It seems to have developed that according to the constitution of the association that nominations for the office should be presented to the association by the sophomore class, and that such nominations should not exceed twice as many as officers to be elected. According to this by-law President Moye ruled the first election unofficial.

and called a special meeting of the sophomore boys to select their nominees. The action was taken after severe pressure on the part of many dormitory freshmen and other members who attended the first election. This pressure was brought to bear by a circular letter, drawn up by some freshmen, and signed by a majority of the members of the association.

The nominees selected by the sophomore boys were presented to the called meeting of the association and Jarvis Edgerton and Kellam James emerged victorious over J. O. Johnson and Elbert Moye. Edgerton and James will serve on a council composed of only upper classmen, due to the fact that the freshmen class is not represented until after the first semester is completed. The council members who are serving along with Edgerton and James are: A. J. Moye, president; Woodrow Sugg, vice president; Elmer Motter secretary and treasurer; Robert Carr and Millard Burt, senior representatives; Cyrus Lee and Howard Robinson, junior representatives. The council has its regular meeting at 8:00 Thursdays and handles all matters of discipline concerning the boys.

On Tuesday morning, September 21, the freshman class held its election in the gymnasium. The class decided that the officers elected were only to hold office until January, at which time another freshman election is to be held.

The nominating committee, appointed by Miss Sarah Baine Ward, president of the Student Cooperative Association, consisted of Frances Loebuck, chairman; and George Loflin, Julia D. Paschal, and Irving Barker, assistants.

After hearing the report of this committee the class elected the following officers: Irma Lee Spencer, of Kinston, president; Claude Garner, of Wilson, vice president; Julia D. Paschal, of Wilson, secretary; and Sarah Mae Green, treasurer.

The freshmen elect Yearly Officers

On Tuesday morning, September 21, the freshmen class held its election in the gymnasium. The class decided that the officers elected were only to hold office until January, at which time another freshman election is to be held.

The nominating committee, appointed by Miss Sarah Baine Ward, president of the Student Cooperative Association, consisted of Frances Loebuck, chairman; and George Loflin, Julia D. Paschal, and Irving Barker, assistants.

After hearing the report of this committee the class elected the following officers: Irma Lee Spencer, of Kinston, president; Claude Garner, of Wilson, vice president; Julia D. Paschal, of Wilson, secretary; and Sarah Mae Green, treasurer.

The freshmen elect Yearly Officers

On Tuesday morning, September 21, the freshmen class held its election in the gymnasium. The class decided that the officers elected were only to hold office until January, at which time another freshman election is to be held.

The nominating committee, appointed by Miss Sarah Baine Ward, president of the Student Cooperative Association, consisted of Frances Loebuck, chairman; and George Loflin, Julia D. Paschal, and Irving Barker, assistants.

JUNIOR CLASS TO RUN STORE

Purpose To Raise Money For The Annual Banquet.

PLANS BEING MADE

It has been rumored around the campus that the juniors are planning a new money-making project. The project is in the form of a junior store. This has been a success on the campuses of many other colleges. According to Miss Hill, the "Junior Shop" was a rack of salvation at W. C. U. N. C. It has worked at other places. It can work at A. C. C.

The store is to be run entirely by the students of the junior class. The manager and assistant manager to be elected. The other students work in shifts, arranging them so the store is open at all of the college do not have to go down town to buy their school supplies or refreshments. At the same time they are supporting the junior class.

Every year this store is handed down to the incoming junior class. It does away with all the trouble the typical juniors have to go through in order to give a decent banquet.

Such a project on this campus has gotten no further than the discussion stage so far. The class is trying to find some place on the campus where a store could be set up. They would like a place that would be convenient to both the boys and the girls. At present this seems to be their major drawback.

If they find a place to go into business, they plan to carry college stationery, school supplies, stamps, cold drinks, candy, sandwiches, and the like.

This store is not to interfere with the Y. W. store in the girls' dormitory. The store will be more varied and the store will be open any time during the day and on special occasions at night. By having stamps and stationery in the Junior store, the students would not have to go to the office or wait until the bookstore opened to get them. Then, too, it would not be necessary for so many students to go over to the college grocery.

This would be a great help to any students who happen to be "on the campus."

The idea, if properly worked out, would, undoubtedly, prove an asset to the college. It would help develop more campus spirit. It would be something definite for every junior class to work on, and would prevent their interfering with the money-making plans of the other organizations.

MANY STUDENTS GET WORK IN WILSON STORES

The merchants of Wilson have shown unusual cooperation and interest in giving Atlantic Christian College students part-time work in their stores. Many of them, realizing that without work some students would be deprived of the opportunity of getting an education at an institution of higher learning, have offered to hire as many students as they could possibly use during the week-end and in the afternoon during the week. Several of the managers said they preferred working college students because they were more efficient.

Surely we have lost something but on the other hand the gain tends to outweigh the sacrifice. The feeling of the upper-classmen is apparent and even the faculty has not completely outgrown the old idea. The upper-classmen are even given the privilege of marching out ahead of the Freshmen from chapel. But the few privileges that are left seem only to be a staggering few that only show we have not developed complete equality. We are still holding on to some few of the old principles. But the fact remains we are not hazing our freshmen as we once did, not only because we have been so constructively reformed, but the state has actually met the situation with legislation. Surely this has been an advancement in building up confidence and morale in our Freshmen. We are proud of the fact that in treating the Freshmen as ladies and gentlemen instead of as "girls," we are far ahead of most of the colleges of this state.

NEW PINE KNOT OFFICERS

CHERRY COCKRIELL

Pictured above are the new Pine Knot officials. Mr. Onnie Cockrell is editor and Mr. Hugh Cherry is business manager. The remainder of the staff has not been definitely selected.

COLLEGIATE STAFF HELD PARTY LAST NIGHT

The Collegiate staff is swinging into its work this year with the inauguration of regular meetings and a bit of social life. Last night, the staff held its first social in the form of a theatre party. Every member of the staff with his or her escort first enjoyed a half hour of fun and refreshments at Bissette's drug store. Later the group went in a body to the theatre where they enjoyed the picture, "Back in Circulation," starring Pat O'Brien, Margaret Lindsay, and Joan Blondell.

Chaperons for the evening were Mrs. Edmondson, censor for the "Collegiate" and Miss Jenkins.

Reporters are assigned to separate stories and asked to cover that story in a thorough and exact manner. Each organization on the school campus has its "cover" all news, activities, either social or otherwise, of his particular organization. Every organization reporter is urged to be prompt and cooperative in order that wasted time and effort may be eliminated. This will allow the duties of the regular staff and will be greatly appreciated.

The student must also pay for his picture in the organization pictures and thirty-five cents for his picture after the first that he appears individually.

To urge each student to have his picture in the annual for to make the book a success the staff is asking the full cooperation of each individual.

Also, if any student has any ideas for the book, he is asked to hand it to Agnes Fittell, the photographic editor.

Religious Emphasis Week Being Observed

Rev. N. J. Robinson Speaker, Is Spending Several Days On College Campus.

PROGRAMS DAILY

The week of October 10-16 is being observed throughout the nation as Religious Emphasis Week. This week, emphasis is being placed upon the fact that religion should have a definite relationship with our daily lives.

In observance of this week, the College has been fortunate enough to obtain Reverend N. J. Robinson of Raleigh, N. C., to officiate at daily services from October 12 to the 15th at the school. Reverend Robinson is speaking at the regular chapel periods and every evening, beginning at 7:15 o'clock. The student body is turning out to hear him in large numbers. The meetings are being held in the gymnasium.

At the chapel period on Tuesday, October 12, Reverend Robinson spoke on "Excuses." In connection with this topic, he said, "Sometimes we are in a quandary to do a difficult task, we are urged to do it, but we are not doing it. All of us can find them, particularly, if the task is to our liking. A great danger comes from getting to the point when we offer excuses so long, that we even believe them ourselves."

With his topic as "God" and taking his text from 1 John 4:12 and 1:18, Reverend Robinson remarked: "God revealed Himself little by little to the fathers, then to prophets such as Amos. The people of that time thought of God as a God of vengeance. Even today, one may hear a person say 'Why did God take my loved one away?' One woman confronted me with this question after the wheels of a heavy truck had crushed the life out of her child."

"Why is God so defined today, and especially in the event of a great tragedy? Is your God that kind of a God? Certainly, no man would have wanted to take the life of this woman's child away. God is better than man at his best."

Reverend Robinson, pastor of the Christian Church of Raleigh, has officiated in that position for the past seven months. His home is in Texas, but he seems to be well pleased with North Carolina.

She was a big politician's daughter, but I was up to her rally.

N. S. F. A. HOLDS 13TH CONVENTION

Plans Are Being Made By Lyle Saunders Chairman Of N. S. F. A. AT ALBUQUERQUE

Lyle Saunders, National Students Federation Association Chairman and Editor of New Mexico Lobo, has nearly completed plans for the Christmas gathering of N. S. F. A. members at Albuquerque. The newly opened Student Union building and regular dormitories will be ready to receive the guests of the thirteenth Annual Congress.

"We hope to be able to entertain the delegates for a registration fee of a little more than twenty dollars apiece," says Saunders. "This congress is going to cost much less than the preceding ones."

In a unique way, the activities of the student councils will be thoroughly studied at the congress, according to the program drawn up by Saunders and N. S. F. A. president Northward over the summer. An effort will be made to discover again the function of the student councils in American higher education. Once this has been agreed upon, the various activities of present councils will be carefully analyzed only when agreement has been reached as to what the council should do, will its structure be discussed?

Student Council presidents who are trying to improve the personal activities on their own campuses will be interested in a pamphlet put out by the American Council of Education, "The Student Body," some points of view. It contains many ideas that the harassed president may find helpful. Secure it by sending ten cents to the Council, at 744 Jackson Place, Washington, D. C.

Statistics released by N.S.F.A. show that college health insurance has proved itself useful to students at Dartmouth College and the University of Kansas according to reports of health service directors at the two institutions.

The United States Department of Interior, Office of Education, has just published a bulletin dealing with "Student Health Services in Institutions of Higher Education" which provides a comprehensive National survey of work being done in this field.

In the student field, this campaign is being directed at present by the National Student Federation, the American Student Union, the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. coordinated through the American Youth Congress.

If a student association has not been affiliated with the National Student Federation in the past, are invited to join a Council's Membership with a cost of two cents per enrolled student, with a minimum of $25.00 and a maximum of $65.00.

The October monthly meeting of the Dramatic club was held Wednesday evening. The president, Robt. Johnston, presided and presented the program participants. The program arranged by May Malone consisted of a number of talks by members of the Vagabonds on some of the present-day actors and actresses. The first to be discussed was that great actress of stage and screen, Helen Hayes. Sarah Baine Ward, the speaker, told of Miss Hayes' ideas pertaining to acting both on the screen and the legitimate stage. The discussion was extremely well directed and was enjoyed by all those present. The next actress discussed was Ina Claire, Miss Claire, according to David Lewis the discussion, is an artist who believes in self expression and human element in her acting. Alfred Lund and Lynne Fontaine were very interestingly reviewed by Margaret Outlaw and Dorothy House. An interesting thing brought out in the discussion of Miss Fontaine was the fact that her original success was scored in the production "Dotey." This play was used as the commencement production by the Vagabonds last year with Margorje Dew playing the coveted lead as Duley.

After all of the discussions Miss Eleanor Snyder the director and advisor of the Vagabonds commented on the actors and told what production they starred and the secrets of their successes. Miss Snyder then pointed out the qualities of a good actor for the benefit of the new members of the organization and discussed the correct technique of the stage.

It was announced at the close of the meeting that next month's meeting would be composed of a Workshop, play given and directed by members of the club. This announcement was received with enthusiasm by all present.

The Vagabonds have started the 1937-38 season by planning a full production. The play, which takes its setting in the mountains of

TO BE GIVEN NOV. 10TH

TO BE GIVEN NOV. 10TH

TO BE GIVEN NOV. 10TH

TO BE GIVEN NOV. 10TH

Activities Of Student Government To Be Published Monthly

EVERYTHING CONCERNING STUDENT BODY PASSED TO BE PUBLISHED.

The Executive Board is composed of eleven members. These members include Sarah Baine Ward, president; Mary Carr, vice-president; Millard Burt, treasurer; Selma Arner, representative of outside students; "Tillie" Bowden, president of Girls' Dormitory Council; A. J. Moye, president of Men's Dormitory Council; Miss Eleanor Snyder and Mr. F. A. Bridges, faculty members elected by students; Mrs. Elbert Lehman and Mr. C. A. Jarman, faculty representatives elected by the faculty.

The purpose of this Board is to serve as an unbiased based of the Cooperative Governmental System which has been in effect on this campus for a little more than a year.

Its jurisdiction includes any cases which might be referred to it by either the Men's or Women's Dormitory Councils. It also includes forming the budget of all the expenditures which come under the head of the Student Activity Fee. It's original traditional powers include all cases of cheating, gambling, drinking, and other matters which are not provided for in either the Men's or Women's Council Constitutions.

Prior to this time the duties of the Executive Board have been shared by the various committees of the college were concerned. Recently the current opinion of the campus and of the Executive Board itself has changed from this old mode. Today both realize that the actions of the Board are of much concern to the students because it directly affects them and also because they, the students, must abide by its decisions, unless, of course, they wish to appeal to the faculty or to the Board of Trustees of the College.

Because of this fact it is deemed advisable to make public to the students the rulings of the Executive Board which are concerned with the student body or some group as a whole. However, all personal matters, including drinking, gambling, cheating, suspension, etc., will remain a private matter.

In the next issue of The Collegiate a summary of their actions will be published. This will be found under a "box head" on the editorial page of the paper. After then, a short summary will be run each month.

It is hoped that the students will read these summaries and think about what the Board is doing, as it is believed that this will work for an even greater cooperative spirit between them.

Y.W.C.A. Plans Varied Program

The Young Women's Christian Association of Atlantic Christian College, under the leadership of Margaret Outlaw, has planned to have varied programs this year, dealing with subjects and problems in which the students are interested.

The first subject presented to the president for discussion was "Ideals." Then "Myself" was suggested because it is one of the greatest problems people have to face today. After "Myself" came the idea of "Myself and My Friends." This topic was discussed at the last meeting with Ann Saunders leading the discussion. Miss Saunders gave some very interesting and valuable points on friendship.

The president of the Y.W.C.A. would appreciate knowing any subject or problem the students are interested in and invites every young woman to the meetings in the lounge every Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

"S' More Bull . . ."

By LEON ROEBUCK

In the preceding sentence I have mentioned the "Ideal" type of Bull to master. Good Bull or Ideal Bull may be defined as the kind which is practically impossible for the professors to recognize as being Bull. This is what ultimately all "Bull-Shooters" aspire to reach. However, pitiful as it may seem, few, in fact very few, reach this goal.

Most of them stay in the rut, being just ordinary shooters of just plain, everyday bull which is easily recognized by any intelligent professor.

This is the group which shoots readily understood bull of the most childish type. It is characterized by its utter simplicity of form and language, to say nothing of the simple way its "pull-over" is attempted. There is also an entirely clear absence of knowledge or facts in this type. It is well known by the more experienced ones of this "trade"—that to have "Good Bull" there must be at least a sprinkling of facts present, and, the less facts—the more technique, tact, and diplomacy is necessary. This fact must be thoroughly understood and practiced by anyone wishing to obtain perfection and proficiency in this line.

To those of you who wish to gain perfection of this kind—I wish you all the luck possible and I trust that possibly a few of the statements I have made might be of some use to you in obtaining your goal. To those who are successful I give my most sincere congratulations.

(Continued on page four)

Y. A. BUDGET IS OUT 45 PERCENT

AN ORGANIZED TWO YEARS AGO.

FACTS . . . Two years ago the requests of educators, administrators, and outside agencies of every type, Youth Administration, government, to help young people, the worst victims of the building large in the Y. A. was the student program, which enabled many to otherwise out, to remain last year the NYA spent some seventy million dollars, most of it by the department groups that it controlled, a maximum of $100,000 up to late August.

Continued on page four

CHORUS EXPECTS SUCCESSFUL YEAR

PLAN YEARS PROGRAM

The men's chorus of Atlantic Christian College has made big strides in its progress since the club's reorganization at the beginning of the school year. Conducted this year under the excellent and efficient leadership of Mr. Russell Owens, organizer of the Men's Chorus, the club expects to accomplish many things this season.

Indication was made that the chorus may present radio programs in the future and, certainly, general presentations in and around the college. Former students recall the chorus "College Cabaret" which was given in the dining hall last spring. The affair was the crowning event of the year in the estimation of many who attended. The chorus is making plans for the establishment of the "College Cabaret" as an annual event and is to be presented every spring.

Mr. Owens, in regard to this year's work, says:

"The Men's Chorus has far exceeded my expectations, and, as a matter of fact, it is already far ahead of the Men's Chorus of last year. I have no doubt that with the cooperation of the members of the Men's Chorus, that Atlantic Christian College will have, if not the best, among the best of the choruses of this state."

(Continued on page four)