RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS THEME OF WEEK

Dr. Morgan Takes "Dating" Survey Among Students

Resulting Statistics Very Surprising

This article is being written to show the cost of dating at home, at school, parlor or theater, formal or informal. The statistics to be presented here represent students from different walks of life found on the campus of our alma mater.

Do you realize what the cost for a formal date, banquet, or dinner is on our campus? From the estimates sent in the boys spend on an average of $12.95 for one occasion. The cheapest estimate was $6.50 and the highest estimate running to $18.00.

But what does it cost a girl to invite some lucky boy to a sorority banquet? The girls' average was $12.47; the lowest ran from $3.75 to $24.50. Any person might ask why such a variation, but the truth lies behind the matter of dressing.

One young lady turned in an estimated expense for a tea for a bride elect. Gift $4, evening dress $12.45, evening shoes $2.98; making a total of $19.43.

The average amount spent by the girls at home was $6.55; beginning at 2.00 and going to $11. The larger part of this amount was spent in the form of dress, shoes, gift, hose, and cosmetics.

My, my, these figures are interesting but how much does it cost for movie dates? The average boy at school spends $1.14 for a movie date; beginning at ninety cents up to $2.25.

But the girl also has an expense when she is carried to the theatre. The scale ran from .00 to $1.85, averaging 78c. Now some girls took advantage of their expense account and charged their sweater, shoes, or even dresses for a movie date.

Marionette Show Sponsored By Student Concerts

Kingsland Performance Entertaining And Educational

The Kingsland Marionette Show was presented Wednesday night, March 6, in the Howard Chapel. This was the third Student Activity entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Head, the operators of the show, have presented shows all over the United States and Europe. Before the main show began, they showed a few of their puppets collected from all corners of the world.

In most foreign countries, puppets are used for religious purposes only. But in Java the marionettes are used for semi-religious entertainment. In France the dolls are smaller than in most countries.

The Shadow Puppets originated in Java. These were made of buffalo hide. Some years later the Chinese developed the shadow

Annual Party Held At Home Of C. G. Williams

The Phi Sigma Tau Sorority entertained more than sixty guests Friday night, March 4, at Mr. Cash's Williams' lodge at the Annual Bulldog Party given in honor of the Basketball team.

All were gathered about the huge fireplace which softly illuminated the room. Songs were sung by the entire group and solos were rendered by talented students.

The main feature of the evening was the Kay Kyser program that was held, Robert Windham, acting as Kay Kyser, was introduced by Susan Alice Waller.

Alliance and Dunn Win Runners-Up Positions In Sixth Annual High School Basketball Tourney; Good Sportsmanship Portrayed By Participants

"SPIT" MARTIN AND CARL SAPP STAR

The Sixth Annual Atlantic Christian College High School Basketball Tournament was held last week in the Wilson Gymnasium on the college campus. As in former years the tournament was divided into two classes—A and B.

Jamesville kept the Class B championship with a roaring last-half victory over Alliance in the finals, 32-24, and Raleigh, unseeded and unsung, came through in the finals to top the second seeded Dunn squad in a battle that was drab at times and flashy at other times.

All were gathered about the huge fireplace which softly illuminated the room. Songs were sung by the entire group and solos were rendered by talented students.

the capital city, and the excellent sportsmanship of both teams. Coach LeRoy Pickett's boys showed the crowd-packed gymnasium for the finals that they were well coached and really knew how to play this game of basketball when the chips were down.

The Dunn Greensies started the battle fast and grabbed a seven point lead on the Caps with four minutes of the first quarter gone by, but then the Pickettmen went to work. First they slowed the game down to their pace, and led by Capt. Craven Turner, center Carl Sapp and their flashy forward, David Willis, the Raleigh boys passed the Dunn boys with a roar and grabbed a commanding lead.

Jamesville advanced to the Class B finals by resounding victories over Belvoir 55-18, La Grange 17-10, and Walstonburg 23-14. The lads in red were favored from the start and showed that they were capable in all of their first round games.

Other first round games and results were as follows: La Grange defeated Arapahoe 25-19; Walstonburg walloped Bailey 48-18; Stantonburg defeated Farm Life 26-18; Moss Hill ran roughshod over Lucama 31-19; Southwood upset Southern Pines 20-18 and Mars Hill swept over Warrenton 25-10.

The Class A champs came thru the hard way to win the coveted trophy. In their first game the Caps were matched with the Cyclones of Wilson in what turned out to be the high spot of the tournament.

Faculty - Juniors Split Basketball Twin Bill

Faculty Sextette Loses Quintet Victories

Headline in the world of sports! The girls of the Junior Class on Wednesday night, February 21, really gave the onlookers a treat when they redeemed themselves by defeating the faculty with a score of 25-22.

The boys' game was very interesting too, the Junior boys being defeated by the Faculty (only Coach Herring and Mr. Jarman really Faculty members) 34 to 20. Robert Johnson and Coach Herring tied for high scoring honors, each making 10 points.

The band offered a special attraction between halves. A parade of the faculty members not playing ball was led by Dr. Jenkins, who walked them around the court. The band appeared with trumpets, pot lids, drums, spoons, horns, and boilers. The music was delightful.

Stunt Night Held In Gymnasium By Junior Class

Waller and Creasy Head Committee

The Junior Class is sponsoring the annual Stunt Night to be held tonight in the Wilson gymnasium at 8 p. m. The committee responsible for the stunts was made up of the following people: Susan Alice Waller, Winton Odham, Agnes Beat, and James Creasy.

Each year the stunts given offer as much excitement and fun for the students as the student faculty ball game. The committee would like to extend to each student and teacher an invitation to come out tonight and bring a dime with you for a couple of good hours of fun.

Just think only one dime for two hours of merriment. As yet the judges have not been announced but you may be sure they will be human beings, even if they have to come from the wise persons of the campus as Cap't John called some of the so-called faculty members. Come one, come all.

Past Month's Chapel Programs

February 27—

President Hilley had charge of chapel. He spoke to the student body on their attendance at the chapel meetings, saying that since we voted not to have these meetings more than twice a week, that we should come to them.

These are President Hilley's reasons why we should attend chapel:

- 1. Your own interest would lead to your presence.
2. A bond of union, that is, a unifying thread in our college experience.
3. There is a disciplinary value in it.
4. You need the constant reminding of a touch with the realities of the spiritual world.

March 5—

"Minikin and Manikin", a one-act play, was presented by the dramatic club under the direction of Miss Eleanor Snyder. Minikin was played by Frances Hamby and Manikin by Meta Johnson. They were dressed in lively colors.

Marion Brinson, John Barclay and William Weigman Visit Campus

STUDENTS AID

It has been customary for a great many years to have on the campus one week set aside and devoted entirely to religion and its many phases—This week is called Religious Emphasis Week.

Since the completion of the new Howard Chapel most of the meetings were held there.

Panel discussions are featured at these meetings and students are invited to participate. The general theme for the week was "Life's Foundations."

The program began Monday evening and continued services through Friday. Three leading ministers of the church together with members of the faculty formed the nucleus of the discussion on "Thinking Straight," "My Job," "What is Right?" and "A Summary of the Week."

With the bringing of the significance of religion to the world down to the individual, the leaders of the program attempted to improve the religious life of the campus. The program this year included many students and the discussions so far stimulated much interest.

The program of the week began on schedule, with the meeting of committee members and the visiting ministers on Monday evening. This short meeting served to acquaint the student leaders with the visiting ministers, and to lay out the final plans for the week.

Tuesday the first panel was conducted on "Thinking Straight". The members of this discussion group were led by Rev. F. W. Weigman, Pastor of Hood Memorial Christian Church, Dunn, N. C.

In the evening the program consisted of discussion groups being run simultaneously. The worship service was conducted by Rev. Marion B. Brinson, Pastor, First Christian Church, Newport News, Virginia.

Wednesday the panel subject "My Job" was led by Rev. John Barclay, Pastor, First Christian Church, Wilson, N. C. Ray Silverthorne led the devotional services and in turn introduced the speaker of the morning.

The evening services were conducted in Howard Chapel and led by Rev. Marion B. Brinson.

On Thursday morning the topic "What is Right?" was led by Dr. Raymond Morgan. Susan Alice Waller led the morning devotion services and turned the discussion part of the program over to Dr. Morgan.

With the evening worship being led by an address by Rev. Marion B. Brinson the program neared its end.

Friday morning the discussion "A Summary of the Week" was led by Rev. John Barclay. Aaron Hocutt student representative led the devotion service and introduced the morning speaker who led the discussion.

The ministers on the campus for the five-day program were the special guests of the college and made their stay with various faculty members. They included Rev. F. W. Weigman Pastor Hood Memorial Church, Dunn, N. C.; Rev. Marion B. Brinson, Pastor First Christian Church, Newport News, Virginia; and Rev. John Barclay, Pastor, First Christian Church, Wilson, N. C.
