Rev. Swearingen to Fill Vacancy at Christian Church

Replaces Dr. John Barclay, Now in Texas

The Reverend Tilford T. Swearingen, of St. Louis, Mo., has been secured by the pulpit committee of the local Christian Church to fill the vacancy created when Mr. John Barclay accepted a call from Austin, Texas.

The Reverend Swearingen was born in the country near Glasgow, Missouri. He went to high school and also took his first year of college work in a Junior College there—Pritchett College. His second year of college was done in North Central College, Naperville, Illinois. He then went to Phillips University where he received his A. B. and A. M. degrees in 1923 and 1924 respectively. Since that time Mr. Swearingen has done one year's graduate study in the University of Chicago.

His experience includes two pastorates, Waukomis, Oklahoma; and Lathrop, Missouri. Mr. Swearingen was in Waukomis three years, two as a student minister. He had been in Lathrop five years when he accepted a call to handle youth work in the Department of Religion Education in St. Louis, Missouri.

There are three members of his family, the third being a twelve-year-old son.

Mr. C. C. Ware received word recently that Mr. Swearingen had been in an automobile accident, but had not been seriously hurt. He will take up his duties here on January 1.

Mr. Swearingen has been for twelve years working in the youth Department of Religious Education, during which time he did young people's work, leadership training, and general curriculum. Since 1936 he has been executive head of the Department.

Photography Reveals Fact

It took powder but they are not sissies. Last Wednesday Robert Brown and John Tyson strolled into the Town Girl's room to have their beauty snapped. They were well dressed, but they had a day's growth of beard. In order to prevent their beards from showing in the picture, they had very artistically dabbed powder on their faces. As explained by the photographer the beards could be taken off in the picture but they had to be powdered to keep the beards from showing.

Brown explained that his not shaving was due to the fact that he and Mr. Tyson had to practice band. If they had shaved they would have lost the strength in their lips needed for playing in the band. The band had an engagement for the night. NOTE: Boys, if you need strength in your lips, DO NOT SHAVE!

Mrs. E. Groves Visits College Campus Here

Nationally Known Lecturer Declares College Splendid

Mrs. Gladys Hoagland Groves, nationally known lecturer and writer on marriage and sex problems, was brought to the campus last week by the Campus Religious Council and the Guidance Committee of the Faculty.

The wife of Dr. Ernest R. Groves, member of the graduate faculty at Chapel Hill, Mrs. Groves has collaborated with her husband on many books related to marriage and parent-hood. She acts as director of Marriage and Family Council, Inc., which has headquarters in Chapel Hill and Colorado Springs.

Mrs. Groves spoke to the freshmen girls on Tuesday evening, addressed the student body in the chapel period on Wednesday, held conferences with the dormitory councils and with the sororities, and spoke to the faculty. Throughout the day, Wednesday students arranged personal conferences with her.

Much interest was shown in Mrs. Groves' scientific and sensible approach to the problems of men and women relationship.

Frolicksome Christmas Fete December 13th

By Frances Hemby

The Christmas Cabaret which will be the feature of the Campus on December 13 will climax the program of the Social Committee for the whole year 1941-42. All those young "gents" who have been desiring a little "Night Life" will really get a chance to show their gals around to the haunting strings of a Christmas Cabaret in all its glory! That's one date to be marked down on your social calendar as a night of fun—"Eat, Drink and Be Merry!" Refreshments will be at your disposal (for a few pennies). There will be no cover charges and if you "ain't" hungry, well, you can enjoy the Cabaret; the superb "Floor Show" which will consist of famous dancing teams, Blues singers, violin solos, maybe the Andrew Sisters even, and every thing else that goes to make a good Floor Show) and JOHN TYSON'S "SWEET" BAND will probably "swing out" during intermission! Well, doesn't all that make you want to be like the wise old owl—you know—"wake up" and be right there when the Christmas Cabaret opens—in the Bert Hardy dining hall at 8:00 o'clock on December 13.

CCA Has Norman Cordon

The Wilson Cooperative Concert Association presented Norman Cordon, baritone of the Metropolitan Opera Company, in the first concert of the winter season in the auditorium of the Charles L. Coon High School, November 5th.

Students of the college were enabled to hear Mr. Cordon through their membership in the association. This year, for the first time, the entire student body have memberships in the association which will entitle them to hear any artist presented in Wilson and also any artist in any town having reciprocity with the Wilson Association.

Mr. Cordon is a nationally known singer and this was his last concert before returning to New York for the winter season with the Metropolitan. He is a native of Washington, N. C., and attended the University of North Carolina.

His program consisted of English folk songs, semi-classical songs, Negro spirituals, and several serious songs by Brahms. The audience was very enthusiastic and gave him several encores for which he sang: "Water Boy" and "Lindy Lou."

His interpretation of the Negro spirituals was particularly good.

Mr. Cordon was accompanied at the piano by Mr. Fritz Krist.

The next artist to be presented by the Association will appear in Howard Chapel in February.

Sadie Hawkins' Day, Movies, and Basketball Game.

Dr. John W. Workman quite generously sponsored a Movie Travelogue on Saturday night, November 15, in Howard Memorial Chapel which consisted of scenes he photographed while traveling through South Carolina, West Virginia, Virginia, Tennessee, and North Carolina. There were four separate films and each was very good. The pictures consisted of mountain scenes, pets, all kinds of animals, rivers, lakes, water falls, the capital cities of all five states and the outstanding buildings and historical places of interest. Of course, the shots of North Carolina fascinated us most—Raleigh, Albermarle Sound, Atlantic and Carolina beaches, Holt's Lake, the mountain scenes of Western North Carolina, the historical scenes at Nag's Head, Kill Devil Hill, Manteo. The films were very impressive scenes.

"Sadie Hawkins' Day" on November 11, was a real "catch." It was sponsored by the Sigma Tau Chi and Phi Kappa Alpha. Kirby Watson was Sheriff and Miss Justine Lynn was Deputy. Each girl was required to "get her a man" and keep him 'til sundown. Traditional Dogpatch

Aldridge, Williams, Holiday, Webster, Davis Receive Honors

PUBLICATION OF NATIONALLY KNOWN VOLUME WILL BE MADE VERY SOON

In an announcement recently released to the Collegiate, the list of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" was named. This list consisted of Gordon Aldridge, Wilma Williams, Joe Holiday, James Webster, and Jewett Davis.

Through the cooperation of some five hundred American Universities and Colleges, this book is published yearly to give nationally wide recognition to the outstanding students chosen by an unprejudiced committee at each College or University.

In order to be included in this selection a student must be outstanding in character, leadership and extra-curricular activities, such as athletics, society, religion, student government, scholarship, and potentialities of future usefulness to business and society.

During his four years stay on the campus Gordon Aldridge has been of outstanding service to the school. Last year he very capably served as treasurer of the Co-operative Government. This year he is giving tirelessly of his time and energies to his post as President of the Co-operative form of Government.

Miss Wilma Williams has proved her worth beyond any doubt. As a Junior she served as Secretary of the Executive Board and as a Senior Vice-President. She is a member of the Golden Knot Honor Society. Her Junior year also saw her serve as a marshal.

Mr. Joe Holiday would require a book to list any portion of his achievements. He is at the present President of the Senior Class, Supervisor of the Dining Hall, and is placing a strong bid for a berth on the first string basketball club. He has been outstanding in the field of Literature, having recently written, directed and acted in a skit which was presented to the student body and on the stage of the Wilson theatre.

Miss Jewett Davis has only been on this campus for two years yet she was a wise choice of the Selecting committee. Last year she was elected Secretary of her class, Vice-President of the Education Club. This year she is the Secretary of the Executive Board, and a member of the Golden Knot Honor Society.

Mr. James Webster is still remembered by the class of '41 for the excellent manner in which he planned and carried out the Junior-Senior Banquet—for last year he was President of the Junior Class and a representative on the Men's Dormitory Council. This year he is President of the Council. He is also a member of the Golden Knot Honor Society.

ris teaches all the classes in Business English and has classes in beginning and advanced shorthand.

Seniors Present Skit at Theatre

"We Shall Have Liberty" Given In Cinema

We Shall Have Liberty was presented on the stage of the Wilson Theatre on Tuesday night, November 11, 1941, as a tribute to Armistice Day. The narrator, Joe Holliday, read the skit which was acted in Pantomime form. It was an historical survey of the events which led up to the First World War and the events which finally led up to the signing of the Armistice. The different organizations which aided the Allies were portrayed. They took their places in chronological order: Soldier (Joe Frank Draper), Marine (Kendrick Taylor), Sailor (Maurice Holland), Salvation Army (Marilyn Boyette and Clarice Bunting), Red Cross Nurses (Katharine Wainwright and Elizabeth Ann Noll), The Statue of Liberty (Wilma Williams) formed the background around which the other characters centered. Woodrow Wilson was portrayed by Edvan Thompson and Jewett Davis was the poet. Madeline Denning, at the piano, furnished patriotic music. The Pantomime was concluded with the whole audience singing America.

"Yes, America is willing to fight again if necessary, and with the combined resources of our Youth, Intelligence, supplies, and with our respect for humanity—WE SHALL HAVE LIBERTY!"

On November 24, 1941, it was presented as the Senior Class Skit for Homecoming in the Howard Memorial Chapel. Joseph Quincy Holliday wrote "We Shall Have Liberty."

GIRLS

games were the center of the program and the "Race" was the climax of the day. Those "fortunate" gals who caught their man had a prize all their own. Celia Crawley and George Farmer won the most attractive costume prizes. Apple cider and ginger snaps were given to the poor "run down" boys and girls.

Youth Banquet Closes State Convention

The annual youth banquet which closed the State Convention of the North Carolina Disciples of Christ was held at Atlantic Christian College this year. Mr. C. A. Jarman, director of Young People's Work in North Carolina, was in general charge of the two youth banquets.

Two separate banquets were held, the high school group meeting in the Bert Hardy Dining Hall with Mr. F. W. Wiegman of Dunn in charge of recreation, and the older young people's group meeting in the Carolina Room of the Christian Church with Neville Brome taking charge.

Under the direction of Mr. Jarman, the State Christian Youth Fellowship Movement was started. Officers elected were: President, Donald Williams of Raleigh; Vice President, Charles Littleher of Leaksville; and secretary-treasurer, Virginia Lancaster of New Bern, and Atlantic Christian College.

Officers of the three youth conferences took charge of the devotional in the evening program. Mr. George Earl Owen of Richmond, Virginia, delivered the final address of the convention.

The convention was closed by the Reverend Olin Fox of Goldsboro who succeeds Dr. Howard S. Hilley as president of the convention.

In December the Christian Youth Fellowship group will hold its third meeting here December 26, 27, 28. President Virginia Lancaster is already looking for room space. So, if you are away Christmas, as of course you will be, leave your name and key with Miss Lancaster so that she may use your room.

Local Dramateers to Present Stage Play

George M. Baker's version of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" will be given in the Howard Memorial Chapel at five o'clock December 14th. This production will be the first stage effort of the newly organized Dramatic Club.

The "Guiding Committee," consisting of Dolly Lineburger, Bruce Davis, Frances Hemby, George Yionoulis, and Lib Stoney, will have charge of directing the play.

The tentative cast was announced as follows:

Speaking Parts
Scrooge, George Yionoulis; Bob Cratchit, Willard Woodard; Morley, William Osborn; Fred, Kirby Watson; Spirit of Christmas Past, Mary Massey; Girl, Margaret James; Youth (young Scrooge) Bryan Parson; Spirit of Christmas Present, Jean Hilley; Tiny Tim, Margaret Barwick; Boy, Doris Corlett.

Others appearing in the production are Preston Parson, Edward Vause, Sally Lucas, Claudia Lucas, Mary Herring, Catherine Robbins.

The play this year will take the place of the Christmas pageant which is usually staged each year. Following the play, gifts will be placed around the festive Christmas Tree. These gifts will go to the poor children of Wilson county and will be presented in connection with the Welfare Department.

Miss Abbitt To Be Wed

The engagement of Miss Margaret Abbitt of this city, to Dr. C. W. Goodwin, local physician, has been announced by her parents. Miss Abbitt before her renunciation, which became effective October 1, was an instructor in commercial work at Atlantic Christian College.

Miss Abbitt came to the College at the beginning of last year from the R. J. Reynolds High School in Winston-Salem, N. C. She was graduated from W. C. U. N. C., with a B. S. S. A. degree. After graduation she taught in the Wadesboro City Schools and the Lumberton City Schools, teaching commercial subjects.

Mrs. John Harris, sister to Miss Abbitt, is now teaching temporarily in her place. It could not be learned who is to take the position permanently. Mrs. Harris teaches all the classes in Business English and has classes in beginning and advanced shorthand.
