

President

A few weeks ago the student body of Atlantic Christian College expressed their preference for the next President of The Cooperative Association in selecting Joe Woodworth from Erwin, North Carolina.

Joe, a graduate of Erwin High school, entered the United States Navy in 1941 and during the course of this time, from 1941-1946, he served his country in the Central Pacific and Caribbean zones. During his service his rating was boosted to the rank of Coxswain. From the Navy, Joe was employed by the Erwin Cotton Mill. In 1948 he was married to Miss Pauline McDonald.

Sensing the vital need for additional education he chose our institution for that purpose. Entering Atlantic Christian College in the academic year of 1950-51, Joe came with the intention of training in the field of Social Studies for the purpose of teaching. Continuing his studies during the summer, Joe was "tapped" into the Golden Knot Honor Society the following year as his abilities, both scholastically and in the field of leadership, were beginning to be discovered. With his Junior year came other responsibilities when he was selected as President of the Junior Class, Vice President of the Men's Dormitory Council, President of Phi Kappa Alpha Fraternity, and one of the students of A. C. C. to be placed on the Who's Who list of College students throughout the United States. Serving as Vice President of Phi Kappa Alpha before undertaking the responsibilities of President, Joe has clearly displayed to the students who elected him to this new office, his capabilities as a leader and student.

Friendliness, the motto of A C C, constitutes one of Joe's greatest attributes and prevails through his every action. Having a well rounded personality which radiates over the entire campus, Joe's compatible nature is indicated through his participation in activities which require full cooperation, such as athletics, in which he took part during his High School days.

Being a Mason, Joe's philosophy of life is taken seriously and adds to his many abilities in the field of leadership. Having been chosen for this new office Joe's humbleness was remarkable, and yet a keen sense of determination and responsibility could easily be detected. Many words of varying worth could be employed in Joe's behalf, but it is the belief of the writer that his feelings are comparable with those of the students that Joe needs no further

Vice-President

One day not long ago as I was cutting across the campus, I was approached by a certain individual who asked me, in a most kind fashion, if I would sign my name on a petition to allow Jim Peebles to run for vice-president of the student body for the next term. I quickly put my "X" on the paper and thanked the bearer for his kindness in allowing me the honor of helping to get Jim the vice-presidency.

I was very glad to know that Jim was going to enter the campaign race because he has really shown the students and faculty of our college some mighty fine qualities of personal character and athletic talent since he first enrolled at Atlantic Christian last year. Jim was vice-president of his freshman class, and was a lvery outstanding basketball player. When baseball season came around, he was out there on the diamond displaying the same hustle as in basketball.

When this school year began, Jim was elected president of the Pan Hellenic Council, secretary of Sigma Alpha fraternity, and selected to be the chairman of homecoming. During basketball season, he hit the nets for the highest number of points on the team and nailed down a berth on the ALL NORTH STATE-CONFERENCE BASKETBALL TEAM: an honor he highly deserved because of his great display of teamwork and his undying efforts to pull the Bulldogs through to victory.

In case you are wondering where Jim keeps himself when he isn't playing ball or what he does in his spare time, well, all you have to do is go down to the A club room where there's painting being done or cut over to Sigma Alpha and you'll see Big Jim working on some form of increasing the looks or welfare of these two organizations. Yes, the students have elected a vice-president who has already proven that he will fill this important job to the satisfaction of everyone. (NOTE: When the first ballot was counted, it became necessary to have a runoff between Jim and Ray Tissot. Nan Mattox and Lois Moore were eliminated in the first ballot and, in the runoff, Peebles beat Tissot by a very thin margin.)

vindication of his abilities, and therefore will you, the students, join me in saying to Joe, "Congratulations, our faith in you is dauntless, and we feel sure that your competence in leadership and friendship will excel in brilliance on the behalf of this your student body."

Secretary

When a certain freshman from Farmville was asked what she liked best about AC she could give no definite answer. We feel we know a little of her likes, for who gets more phone calls than anyone on third floor of Harper Hall?

This freshman has certainly disproved the feeling that brains and beauty do not mix, for in addition to keeping her class work far above par, she has been named Homecoming Queen and Queen of the Pine Knot. Our campus beauty, who loves to read poetry, listen to the radio, and collect records, entered college with the intention of taking a one year commercial course. Perhaps her continued enjoyment of campus life, the desire to play the trumpet again in the band, and to become a cheerleader once more helped Jo Ann Thomas make her decision to stay for four years.

Jo Ann's decision to major in business and to teach that subject some day may aid her in her newly-elected position. Yes, she will be one of your representatives on the Executive Board as secretary of the Co-operative Association.

It is her name you will see signed to the publication of the weekly actions of the Executive Board. It is she who will endeavor to keep an accurate record of all happenings of the Board and who will cut all the ballots and post lists of students eligible for certain offices. It will be Jo Ann who will do the Association correspondence.

Treasurer

It is a pity that the outgoing Treasurer of the Co-operative Association (incidentally she is also coming in for next year) didn't have any competition in the recent election. We (the editorial "We") would have loved to make a campaign speech for her, for we think the job of Treasurer of student funds is one of the most important posts on campus, and our newly re-elected Treasurer has been performing her duties with modesty.

We find Suzanne Gill to be energetic, dependable, and thoroughly honest in all her dealings with both the student body and others. She has a radiating personality and a mind that captures your imagination.

She has a wonderful spirit, and she wears well the garment of modesty. She does not tire easily, or lose her freshness as the work moves on striking rocks and ruts which always confront a person with heavy undertakings. Optimism and hopefulness radiate from her heart. It is reassuring to our faith and makes us look forward with confidence to the future when we meet a person like Suzie. She is not bothered by a multitude of doubts, but knows where she wants to go and fearlessly sets out to accomplish her objective.

She is a member of Phi Sigma Tau Sorority, Golden Knot Honor Society, Women's Athletic Association, and Concert Committee.

We asked Suzie what her job as Treasurer consists of and her modest reply was: "I receive the money allotted for student activities, and after it has been deposited into the bank I write checks for the eight organizations that get a proportionate sum from the Student Activities Funds."
